PRESS AND TRIBUNE.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 25, 1858.

The Weekly Press and Tribune.

Those who have been disappointed in not being able to obtain copies of some of our daily issues, though several large extra editions have been struck off during the past week, will find that the WEEKLY PRESS AND TRIBUNE now issued contains an amount of important and interesting campaign news rarely crowded into one paper. It contains our full and detailed correspondence from points in the interior, giving a mirror of political events now in progress in our State, in one of the most exciting political contests Illinois has ever known; the full phonographic reports of the great discussion at Ottawa between the gallant Lincoln and Douglas, with the full exposé of the forgery attempted by the latter—making as a whole the largest amount of important matter ever comprised in a single issue of any paper in this city.

We have issued a large extra edition, and remind our Republican friends that the WEEKLY PRESS AND TRIBUNE of the present week is one of the best campaign documents that can be scattered broadcast through our State, giving at once the contest as it stands, the position of the leaders on either side, and the desperation of Douglas and to what tricks the Senator has been driven to resort.

Copies ready for mailing, or by the hundred, can be had at our counting room, No. 43 Clark street, over George Smith's Bank.

The Admission of New States.

The Dred Scott Champion is greatly exercised as to what course his successor in the U. S. Senate will take on the subject of the admission of new States into the Union. Having been the chief agent in the conspiracy to carry slavery into all the Territories, and to maintain it there while the territorial condition lasts in defiance of Congressional enactment and the local law, he now wishes Mr. Lincoln to commit himself, in advance, to vote for the admission of such slave States as may hereafter be carved out of the Africanized Territories. We have no authority to speak for Mr. Lincoln on this or any other subject, but our own opinion is at the service of Mr. Douglas.

The Republican party is in favor of returning to the method of dealing with the Territories, which was in vogue before the Kansas-Nebraska bill was originated or the Dred Scott decision promulgated. It recognizes the right of Congress under the Constitution to exclude slavery from them, and it insists upon the faithful execution of that right. It also recognizes, to the fullest extent, the right of the people of those Territories to frame their own Constitution when they come to organize a State government, and to be admitted into the Union as such, provided that Constitution insures a republican form of government. Under this policy the Republican party believes that slavery will be restricted to its present limits, and that the States in which it exists will, sooner or later, perceive the wisdom of taking measures looking to the gradual and ultimate extinction of the institution.

It is possible, but not probable, that under this policy an additional Slave State will be created out of the Territories. Of that the Republican party is willing to take the chances, and abide by its policy. Should it turn out that the people of any Territory, after enjoying the advantages of free institutions by virtue of Congressional enactment, prefer to have slavery when they come to organize a State Government, should a provision for that object be incorporated into their fundamental law, and the same be ratified by a full, free and fair vote of the entire people of the Territory, we believe there would be no opposition to its admission into the Union. We do not believe it possible for such a contingency ever to occur, and we, consequently, consider the subject to be of no practical importance whatever; but if, by any possibility, a people possessing the right of free choice, should conclude to fasten a domestic curse of so great magnitude upon themselves—the evil is theirs the responsibility is theirs, the Republican party has done all that patriotism, philanthropy, and constitutional right enabled it to do to avert it, its hands are clean.

Douglas Revamping his Old Attacks on Clay.

Senator DOUGLAS, in his younger days, howled so loud and long over the alleged "bargain and sale," which implicated the official and personal honor of the gallant HARRY CLAY, that howling over the same pretended bargain between LINCOLN and TRUMBULL, by which the two Illinois seats in the Senate were to be shared between them, is the easiest thing in the world. Early impressions are the strongest, and as he is now harping on a charge similar to that with which, when he first made politics his trade, he so bitterly and persistently maligned the distinguished Kentuckian, his slang and falsehood come to his memory so fast that he has difficulty in giving them the forcible utterance that he desires. The parts of his speech in which he retails the last falsehood, are like the memory of a well learned lesson; and we have no doubt—so little has his oratory improved, either in matter or manner, since the conquered his native modesty and reluctantly persuaded himself to give the world he benefit of his profound ability in political affairs—that, if we could find one his old attacks on HENRY CLAY, it would, with a change of name and date, exactly fit the case in hand.

Now that he has entered upon the task of repeating portions of his old speeches, slighty altered to suit the emergency, we trust that he will not stop at the "bargain and sale" story. We well remember when politicians of his calibre, kidney and decency, were accustomed to arraign Mr. Clay before the people as a black-leg, a gambler and a murderer. We pray Douglas to bring these charge also, against Lincoln. He might find—he doubtless would find—treasured up in the nooks and crannies of his extraordinary fertile memory, the proper phases in which to clothe them. He need not be modest about it either. Lincoln, among his friends here in Illinois where every man knows him as the kindliest and most amiable of men, can bear the slanders as well as Clay did when they were bawled out all over the Union, by just such politicians as Douglas is. Mr. Douglas need not enter into any abstruse calculations to arrive at the magnitude of the falsehoods that he would be required to tell, to make these charges lie. He may be sure that they would give zest and dignity to his orations which are rather too much overloaded with his modern staple—nigger—and perhaps they would "bring Mr. Lincoln to his milk"—who knows? At any rate, they would be just as near the truth as the very petty, very mean and very false allegation of the bargain and sale.

Nebraska Election.

The election in Nebraska was held on the 2d inst. The Omaha Republican of the 4th has the official vote of Douglas County, which elects one Independent and two Democrats to the Council, and four of each ticket to the Lower House. John Taffe is believed to be elected to the Legislature in the Dakota district. He ran on the Republican and Independent tickets. Otoe County elects the entire "people's ticket" over the regular Democratic, by about eight majority.

Bank at Keokuk.

The Gate City of the 23d, says:

We learn that the necessary amount has been subscribed and paid in, to secure the establishment of a Branch of the State Bank at Keokuk. The Commissioners closed the books on Saturday evening, but another opportunity will be given for subscribing to the capital stock after the necessary measures have been taken to put the Bank in operation.

The subscriptions have been made entirely from among the best of our business men, and the wealthiest of our real estate proprietors, and the Branch will start under as good auspices, so far as soundness and discretion are concerned, as could very well be.

Exchange.

Bankers put down exchange this morning to three fourths of one per cent. See money article on the fourth page.

Admits the Charge.

The Times admits that the resolution which Mr. Douglas read to his audience in Ottawa, during the debate between himself and Lincoln, on Saturday last, and which he averred to be one of a series adopted by the Republican State Convention in 1854, is not to be found in that series, and sorrowfully confesses that it was a resolution passed by a local convention in Aurora, Kane county. Our case is made out.

Lincoln at Freeport.

Our readers in the Western part of the State will bear in mind the fact that the second encounter between LINCOLN and DOUGLAS comes off at Freeport on Friday, the 27th. On that occasion it is expected that Douglas will try to "bring Mr. Lincoln to his milk," and all who are curious to know what the process used will be, and what will result therefrom, will not fail to be on hand.

Who has Changed?

While the Whig and Democratic parties differed in regard to a bank, the tariff, distribution, the specie circular and the sub-treasury, they agreed on the great slavery question which now agitates the Union.—Douglas at Ottawa.

True, with a single exception. Mr. Calhoun and his little squad of nullifiers, though claiming to be connected with one or the other of the two parties, held views widely different from either on the slavery question. They claimed that the federal constitution carried slavery into the Territories, and that neither Congress nor the Territorial Legislature had the constitutional right to exclude it. This doctrine was combatted by the great leaders of both the old parties, but by none of them with the same power and earnestness as by Henry Clay and Daniel Webster.

In 1854 Mr. Douglas inaugurated the series of measures which have terminated with the Dred Scott decision and the placing of the Democratic party squarely upon the old Calhoun nullification platform. The Republican party grew out of the change of policy on the part of the Democratic party and the disbanding of the old Whig party. Its doctrine with respect to slavery in the Territories and States is precisely the same as that held by the old parties before the one was betrayed and the other disorganized. It seeks restoring the Government to the policy which prevailed before the Democratic party became tinctured with the heresies of Calhoun.

These being the facts in the case, on which side should the honest adherents of these two old parties array themselves in the present struggle? Should they go for Douglas, the disciple of Calhoun, or for Lincoln, the follower and friend of Clay?

Exciting News from Mexico—An Administration Run Mad.

The news from Mexico would seem to indicate that the administration of President Zuolaga has run mad. Not only does it continue the most obnoxious and insulting course toward our Minister, whose relations with it are closed, but it is resorting to schemes of the most outrageous robbery for the purpose of getting money out of the wealthy Mexican citizens. We quote from the special correspondence of the New York Herald as follows:

SQUEEZING RICH MEN.

For the past week we have had considerable excitement in gossiping circles, growing out of the arrest of two of our principal men of wealth, Don Manuel Escaudon and a brother-in-law of Gen. Robles, Don Miguel Bringas. The cause of their arrest is this: About ten days or a fortnight ago, the government conceived the idea of replenishing its beggared treasury by forcing the principal men of wealth of this city to loan the nation $1,000,000 on the paper of the church. The capitalists, who had heretofore been the staunch supporters of this government, did not like the manner in which this proposition was made, and declined the negocio. The government urged it, but the capitalists held out. This excited the government, and hence their imprisonment. Besides incarceration, the government imposes a fine of $1,000 per diem for their perverseness in refusing the amounts asked of them. Up to last night these gentlemen still remained in prison, and still persisted in refusing to pay their assessments.

Several others of the rich have been pursued by the police, but have hidden themselves. In cases where parties have not paid something to gratify the government, passports have been made out, and several gentlemen, who are now "away on their haciendas," will find these interesting documents on their tables when they return.

NEWSPAPERS SUPPRESSED.

At present the liberal press is closed up, and all of the editors in jail except Moran. Yassen, of the French paper, got his passports a few days ago, and has hidden himself. Yarco, of the Siglo, has hidden himself, and the editor of the Extraordinary would certainly have been ordered to leave had he not have been of the English language. The government commenced to prosecute him, but found he had too much influence on his side.

MR. FORSYTH NOTIFIED TO TAKE CARE OF HIMSELF.

The editor of the Siglo was chased into the United States Legation a few days since by the police. He took refuge there in defiance of the police, but was afterward induced to leave his comfortable quarters by Mr. Forsyth, who "could not compromise his legation in that matter." Poor Yarco was therefore forced to make his escape by the azotea, and secrete himself as best he could. This act of Mr. Forsyth has altogether made him unpopular with both sides. The government in consequence have, or will, notify Mr. Forsyth that in the event of a tumult, he (Mr. F.) must take care of himself.

Indeed, it is said, so well is Mr. F. marked by the police, that two days since he came very near being the instrument of a gross insult to the diplomatic cloth of the United States by his reduction to prison as a common vagabond. The circumstance was about this: Mr. Forsyth was returning from a morning ride, when he came up with two dogs that were wrangling about a bone in one of the principal streets. This very common canine amusement in Mexico terminated suddenly by the parties to the combat rubbing violently against the feet of a lamp-lighter's ladder, and overturning the lamp-lighter in the street with a great crash of glass, splutter of oil, and, bystanders think, the fracture of several of the lamp-lighter's ribs.

The clatter and crash excited the mettle of Mr. Forsyth's fiery horse, and he was in consequence seen flying from the scene of the disaster. The police, of course, always regarding fugitives as culprits, set after him, and augmented at every block until Mr. F. had gone four blocks, when his horse was seized, and he ordered to regard with submission the representatives of law and order. In vain did Mr. F. plead his sacred and inviolable person. The police cunningly suggested in reply, that any one might do the same thing to escape from justice. Mr. F. was then forced to disclose a six-shooter, which, presented with the avis that if they persisted, he should be forced to disturb their brains, induced the police to fall back and allow the representative of the United States to pass on to his home.

Arrest and Death of an Alleged Fugitive Slave---The Laws of the State Set at Defiance.

[From the Southern (Shawneetown) Illinoisan, 20th.]

On Sunday, the 15th inst., a likely negro boy, some eighteen or twenty years of age, was arrested as a fugitive slave, a few miles back of our city, by two or three individuals, and brought into town. The boy stated that he was free, that he was born and raised in Vigo county, Indiana. He named several gentlemen, residents of Terre Haute, with whom many of our citizens were well acquainted. He also showed by his statements that he was well acquainted in the town of Greencastle, and the cities of Indianapolis and New Albany, Indiana. He stated that he was a barber by trade, had been running on the river, and left the steamer J. W. McClay at a coal yard a short distance below town, on the same day that he was arrested, and in consequence of a difficulty that he had with the porter of the boat, a colored man.

From the apparent truth of all his statements, and from the indisputable fact of his being acquainted with many of the prominent men of Terre Haute, Ind., there seemed to be no doubt upon the minds of the large mass of our citizens that the boy was free, and his captors were advised to loosen his shackles and let him go. As they had no legal process to hold the boy, they were also advised that, before they could proceed further, they must take him before a magistrate, or the commissioner, under the fugitive law, at this place, and investigate the fact of his being a fugitive.

To all this wholesome advice the captors turned a deaf ear, and with the assistance of a few others, forced him across the river, into the State of Kentucky, in the face of the assembled crowd. On the next day the parties returned and reported that the boy had escaped from them, and they pursued him into the river and lost sight of him. The unfortunate negro was found dead on the next day, and is now (at the writing of this) lying on the Kentucky beach, opposite this town, where he was drifted by the waves. As he is out of the jurisdiction of this State, no means have been taken to ascertain the mode of his death.

Destructive Fire at St. Joseph, Mo.

On the 16th inst., a fire broke out in the city of St. Joseph, Missouri, which resulted in the destruction of several large mercantile houses, involving a loss of about $50,000 worth of property. We were able to learn but few particulars concerning the fire, further than that it is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The following are the principal sufferers: J. W. Crane & Co., dry goods merchants; C. Hyatt, wholesale grocer, loss heavy; E. W. Welch, turner; Fremont bowling saloon, J. L. McLaughlin's and D. J. Heaton's buildings.

Attempt to throw a Train of Cars off the Track---The Villain Captured.

A bold attempt was made last Friday afternoon to throw the passenger train going west on the Galena Railroad off the track about two miles this side of Cherry Valley. As the train came along several ties were discovered lying across the track, and the engineer had just time to stop the train and thus avert a terrible catastrophe. At the same time a man named Lawson E. George, a tailor well known in, and a resident of this city, was seen running rapidly away from the spot, who was pursued, overtaken, and brought to this city, and examined before Justice Manlove, who deemed the evidence adduced on the examination sufficient to bind him over for trial as the person who attempted this crime. We are told that he had been ejected from the eastward going train that day for refusing to pay the whole amount of his fare, and this is supposed to have been his incitement to the act.—Rockford Dem., 24th.

THE CITY.

ACCIDENT.—On Monday, a laborer employed upon the Custom House building in Dearborn street, fell from the second story to the ground, severely injuring his spine. At last accounts he was in a fair way of recovery.

ACCIDENT.—A sad accident occurred yesterday to a lad named Wm. John M'Carthey, of 142 Lake street, and late of New York. He entered the stable of Mr. Stewart in Clark street, between Lake and Randolph streets, and while playing with a straw and hay cutting machine chopped off the two first fingers of his left hand.

FAST AND LOOSE.—Alfred W. Allen, who was sentenced to the Bridewell conjointly with Doolittle, for the assault upon Mr. Keith, made his escape on Sunday, during church service, by climbing the fence. He was retaken shortly after in a barn near by, severely injured by the spikes in the top of the fence.

PERSONAL.—The following are among the guests at the Richmond House:—J. Edgar Thomson, Pesident Pennsylvania Central and Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne Railroad; Hon. F. H. Stevens, Michigan; Dr. E. D. Fenner, New Orleans; Dr. Barritt, do.; Judge Jones, Pittsburgh; Col. Mobley, South Carolina; H. K. Muir, Supt. Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad; J. A. Armstrong, Freight Manager, do.; Thos. Bell, Freight Manager Great Western Railroad.

CIRCUS—LAST NIGHT—BEN JENNINGS IN THE RING.—To-night (the last) will be the best performance, no doubt, ever given in this city. Notice the features: Mr. Geo. Dunbar will support three men on a slender pole 20 feet long, a feat never performed by any other man; first appearance of the Man Monkey on horseback, and the appearance of Ben Jennings as Clown will doubtless draw a crowded house.

MAD'LLE HAYDEE, THE DANSEUSE.—This graceful young artiste takes her complimentary benefit to-night, at North's, for which occasion a talented host of her theatrical friends have kindly volunteered. We hope that a crowded house will give the assurance to herself and friends, that her efforts have been very successful for one so young; and as she remarks in her modest answer to those tendering the benefit, "stimulate her to renewed exertion."

Artistes, as well as everybody else, labor for pay as well as praise, and to those who meri both, the world should not be niggard.

ANOTHER CONCERT BY MR. UNGER.—In view of the recent dullness in musical matters in our city, the announcement of a concert by Mr. Unger will be received by our music lovers with a more than usual warmth of welcome. The affair will take place in Metropolitan Hall within a short time, and efforts are being made to give us something better than usual. Mrs. Bostwick, Mr. D'Clerque, Mr. Melens, Mr. D' Passio, and the Great Western Band will form the principal attractions. A young lady of this city, who possesses remarkable musical talent, and who, though not yet out of her teens, is said to be a very accomplished player, will give one or two piano pieces. We trust Mr. Unger will carry his undertaking successfully through. The night of the concert will be announced in due time.

A BRACE OF HOTEL THIEVES IN CUSTODY.—Officer William Douglass arrested yesterday two men, who gave their names as Frank W. Davis and John Gillespie, charged with the larceny of a valise and its contents from the Morley House in this city. Both are sailors, and have thus made poor use of a dull time ashore. The valise contained wearing apparel and effects amounting in all to nearly $80, upon which plunder the thieves proceeded to make themselves comfortable. A gold chain, worth $18, was sold at Messrs. Carter & Carbery, of Lake street, for old gold, for the sum of $7. They also sold clothing at various places for lodging and meals. Quite a cloud of witnesses were, by the industry of the detectives, brought up against them, and both were held by Justice Aiken to appear for trial at the Recorder's Court.

STEAM BOILER EXPLOSIONS.—A very simple apparatus to prevent those terrible accidents has recently been invented, consisting of an alarm whistle connected with a valve operated by a float inside the boiler. The float rests upon the solid water, and as the water gets low in the boiler the float falls and opens the valve communicating with the alarm, and reports by a shrill scream that the boiler wants water. As soon as the water is supplied the valve closes, and the alarm stops. The machine may be set to give the alarm at any point desired, and it will never fail to report at the given point, giving ample time to re-supply the boiler. There are two prominent causes of danger in using steam. One is that some slight obstruction may prevent the pump supplying the water. The other—boilers foaming; in the latter case, the gauge cocks are not sure indications; in the former the engineer supposes all to be right when the pump is working. In both cases a mistaken opinion may result fatally; with this attachment no such contingency can take place. Every person about the boat or establishment will be notified before any danger of explosion, if from the above or any other cause the water should get low in the boiler. It is the duty of every person using steam to provide against the danger of explosions.

MELANCHOLY IF TRUE—THE VERY LATEST.—The Chicago Times of yesterday, states that John C. Haines, Mayor of this city, and Capt. Kennedy, of the Police Department, at "five o'clock on Sunday morning last, having previously made arrangements for a prize fight, met in the Fifth Ward, between the Union Park Hotel and Mayor Haines' residence, and within three blocks of the latter, formed a ring, stripped, and fought one hour and a half without interruption. Both of them were horribly bruised in the affair, yet the fight, for some reasons seems not to have been satisfactory, and another challenge is preparing."

We give it on the authority of Snarleyouw, who lives in that vicinity, and was, at the hour named, calmly promenading the prairie in a clean shirt collar, waiting the ushering in of the holy day. For the sake of the credit of Chicago we trust the Times is mistaken, and hope he will abate a little of that item in a future issue. Let him soften down something. Let us know that the "stripping" wasn't total; that the whole affair took place within an hour and twenty-six minutes and a half; let the ring be located "a leetle farther" towards Union Park Hotel, and then we shall be easy.

Alas for Snarleyouw; in these efforts of his imagination he is building his own tombstone; upon every one of them is written, "Here lies Snarleyouw."

POLICE.

The list yesterday at Armory Hall was as follows:

James Gurnett was fined $8 for being drunk and abusing his family.

Burney McGee, Ann McGee and Margaret Russell, for indulging in a free fight, the first two $10 each, and the latter $20 and sixty days in the Bridewell.

James Ronan and Henry Delany were fined $5 each for fighting.

Peter Blicker and Martin Hilger, two barbers, were fined $5 for indulging in a barberous and unseemly fight.

George Smith was arrested for keeping a house of ill-fame at the corner of Desplaines and Laflin streets, and fined $30.

Frank Parblutski and Heinrich Miller, inmates of George Smith's crib, were fined $15 each.

DIED.

On Monday evening, August 23d, at Edina Place, FRANCIS EUGENE, only son of Saml. E. and Nellie W. Worden—aged one year and twenty-two days.

The funeral will be attended at 10 o'clock this morning.

At Stamford, C. W., on the 18th, Mr. JAMES CRAWFORD, Jr., aged [illegible] years.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

The Lord Mayor of London to Mayor Tiemann of New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—At about 2 P. M. to-day Cyrus W. Field received a dispatch from J. C. Lampson, Esq., one of the directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, bearing date, London, to-day—time is literally annihilated. The following is the reply of the Lord Mayor of London to Hon. Danl. F. Tieman's message of congratulation:

LONDON, England, Aug. 23.

To Hon. D. F. Tiemann, Mayor of New York City:

The Lord Mayor of London most cordially reciprocates the congratulations of the Mayor of New York, upon the success of so important an undertaking as the completion of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable. It is indeed one of the most glorious triumphs of the age, and reflects the highest credit upon the energy, skill and perseverance of all parties entrusted with so difficult a duty. The Lord Mayor sincerely hopes that by the blessing of Almighty God, it may be the means of cementing the kind feelings which now exist between the two countries.

R. W. CARDEN,
Lord Mayor of London.

French Grant to the Atlantic Telegraph Company.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—We understand that the French government has granted to the Atlantic Telegraph Co. the exclusive right for 50 years to land telegraph cables on the islands of Miquilon, which lie between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland in a direction about 30 miles southwest from the latter and about 200 miles distant from Sydney, Nova Scotia. Having secured the right it is proposed to run a cable from Placentia Bay, N. F., to St. Pierre, the chief fish depot of the island, and thence to a point near Sydney, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. By this means the two French islands will be thrown into telegraphic communication with Europe, while the company will get rid of the necessity of keeping in repair some 400 or 500 miles of land line running across Newfoundland and Cape Breton, through regions where there are no inhabitants, excepting a few scattered Indians, and no roads other than those which have been constructed by the Telegraph Company at its own expense. In accordance with this liberal grant the French Government, doubtless, had in view the advantages it must confer on its immense interest which centre at St Pierre, and which will thus be brought into daily, and almost instantaneous communication with France.

The Atlantic Cable---Death of Mr. Eddy.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Aug. 24.—The death of Mr. Eddy, late Superintendent of the American Telegraph Co.'s line and Honorary Director of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, was made public here to day at 10 o'clock, and created universal and profound sorrow. The flags of the shipping are at half mast, and other appropriate demonstrations are being made.

The working of the Atlantic cable continues to improve daily, and the Electricians have good reason to hope that the cable may soon be open to the public.

Mayor Tiemann's Message to the Lord Mayor of London.

SACKVILLE, N. B., Aug. 23.—Mayor Tiemann's message to the Lord Mayor of London, has been transmitted through the Atlantic Telegraph cable. Its refusal by the operator at Conn station, Newfoundland, was from a misapprehension of the instructions of the managers of the Telegraph Company, which was corrected by a dispatch from Cyrus W. Field. The electricians at Valentia made no opposition to the passage over the cable, but cheerfully executed their portion of the duty.

American New York State Council.

ALBANY, Aug. 24.—The American State Council met at Association Hall to-day. Nearly 400 delegates were present.

A motion being made to give a pass word to delegates, and exclude all others from the Hall, Erastus Brooks opposed it, saying the time was past when policy dictated closed doors, and for his part he was ready to throw open this and all future Conventions to the public, so that misrepresentation and falsehood might no longer be published to the world as true.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 24.—The Regatta of row boats, to occur in this city on Friday next, the 27th, promises to be a brilliant affair. Numerous boats, some of them celebrated by past achievements, are promised from Boston, New York, New Brunswick, Albany, Hartford, New London and other places, and it is expected that at least twenty-five boats will be here. The races are divided between four-oared boats, six and eight-oared boats and wherries; and a grand closing race open to all boats of more than four oars, for $150.

THE SEPTEMBER ECLECTIC.—The September Magazines are all now issued—Harper, Godey, Graham, Atlantic Monthly, Peterson, Eclectic with a portrait of Chas. Kingsley, &c. The London Quarterly, Edinburgh and Westminster Reviews for July are also just published. They may be had together with the latest London papers, containing illustrations of the Queen's visit to Cherbourg, at the new store of McNally & Co., 81 Dearborn street, opposite the Post Office, in Rice's new block, where may also be always found all the latest papers and magazines, a full assortment of stationery, and a complete stock of law books.

CHANGES.—We find in looking around our city that there has been a great many changes taking place within the last few months. We attribute the cause to business people being able to rent newly built stores considerably lower than old ones. We notice that Andrews, our principal news dealer, has removed from the corner of Clark and Randolph streets to 73 Dearborn street, under the Revere House, where he has a splendid store in all respects, and he will continue as usual to supply his numerous friends, and the public at large, with all the cheap literature of the day in advance of all other houses.

SHUH'S STEAM POWER METRE.—This new and ingenious instrument is designed to measure and record the amount of power evolved by the steam engine for any length of time, or during the performance of any given mechanical service. The results are attained by a continuous process of multiplying the variable pressure upon the piston into the variable motion of the piston, combining the two differential elements at all points in the traverse, and registering the result in units of one hundred pounds raised one foot high, upon dials attached to the instrument.

This device will furnish accurate data for determining many important questions relating to the economic construction of engines, furnaces, boilers, locomotives and steam vessels; it will indicate the precise relative value of all kinds of fuel and lubricating substances; it reveals the slightest inaccuracy in the movement of valves or irregularities in the openings, and furnishes in effect a complete interior view of the entire steam apparatus.

A model of the invention may be seen at the office of Marsh & King, 76 Dearborn street, and it will well repay an examination to those interested in mechanical science.

"THE CHICAGO NORTHWESTERN EYE AND EAR INFIRMARY."

Editors Press and Tribune:

This institution was established in this city, at 73 Clark street, about four months since, and the services of Dr. Underwood, the well known Physician of the Louisville, (Ky.) Eye and Ear Infirmary, were secured, as its head. The well known skill of Dr. Underwood attracted large numbers of persons who are suffering from the diseases to which these organs are usually subject. And Dr. U. has treated more than two hundred cases within the period named, with success hitherto unknown. The cases have extended from simple inflammation of the eyes, to total blindness of years standing, and from a scarcely perceptible deafness to a total incapacity for hearing from infancy.

As examples of his almost miraculous skill, two very peculiar and interesting cases have come under our observation. They both reside in this city, and the truth of what we state can be substantiated at any time by those who feel an interest in the matter.

The first case is that of Miss Rachel Minturn, whose sight had been greatly impaired,—at times totally blind—from a scrofulous affection of her eyes of 13 years duration. Her eyes have been brought to a healthy condition, and her sight perfectly restored, by Dr. Underwood's skill. Persons desirous of testing the truth of this statement, can obtain all the information they desire by calling on Mr. Keath, her brother-in-law, at the Marine Bank.

The other case, not less interesting than Miss Minturn's is that of Mary Buell, corner of Randolph street and Wabash avenue. She is 16 years old, and has been totally deaf from her infancy, and of course, unable to talk. She has, by the skill of Dr. Underwood, been so far restored as to be able to hear a person speaking to her across the room, and is making good progress in learning to talk. Her almost entire restoration is placed beyond a doubt.

We have no desire to extol the Doctor in extravagant terms. His own works praise him. And to these we refer all who have a personal or kindred interest in the diseases which he treats with so much skill and success.

Yours. VINDEX.

LIGHT!! MORE LIGHT!!
EVERY FAMILY THEIR OWN GAS MAKER.
NO CHEMICAL HUMBUG.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE MADE EXtensive arrangements for supplying any store, public house or private dwelling in the city or suburbs with

J. W. Smith's New Patent Gas Generator.

By means of this exceedingly simple, cheap and convenient arrangement, any family can have, at a cost not to exceed one-fourth the cost of the city gas, a gas far more brilliant and white, and not at all offensive. This is none of the chemical humbugs with which the country is flooded, but genuine Gas, manufactured by means of a simple arrangement (lately patented) made to attach to any gas pipe, to be used with ordinary gas burners.

THINGS YOU WILL AVOID BY USING THIS GAS.
1st—Three-fourths of all expense.
2d—All offensive odor.
3d—Uncertain and poor light.
4th—The annoyance of defective metres, monthly gas bills, advance deposits, &c.

The following are among the many certificates we have from those using this Gas:

Washington City, D. C., July 1st, 1858.

This may certify that we have been using John W. Smith's Portable Gas Generator, to light our store, which has 13 burners, using from 5 to 6 feet per hour to each burner, making the gas every night as we want it. We find this new invention to be a valuable one. For economy, safety and brilliancy it by far exceeds every other light now extant. Our gas bill from the Gas Company in this city averaged $26 per month, when this (Smith's) Gas has not cost over $4 or $5 amonth, and producing a much stronger and purer light. Our experience with it since the 1st of February last, warrants us in recommending it to all that may wish a cheap and safe light.
E. TUCKER & BRO., Pennsylvania avenue.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—The undersigned are now using in their store, 74 State street, one of J. W. Smith's Portable Gas Generators, and from experiments carefully made by us we are well satisfied that the cost of gas made by this apparatus will not exceed one-fourth the expense of the city gas for an equal number of burners, the capacity of the burners being equal. The light is also whiter and more brilliant, and without offensive odor. The apparatus is exceedingly simple and cheap, and the process of making the gas within the comprehension of the most ordinary mind, all of which facts we shall be happy to demonstrate to any person who may wish, by their calling at our store, 74 State street, at any time between eight o'clock A. M. and nine o'clock P. M. BEECHER & POWELL.

CIRCULATE THE DOCUMENTS.

If the real principles of Stephen A. Douglas were generally understood by the people of Illinois, he would stand no earthly chance of re-election to to the Senate. Let it be known among the masses that he has abandoned his long ridden hobby of popular sovereignty, or the right of the people of the Territories to govern themselves, and that he has substituted in its stead the Dred Scott doctrine, which denies to the people the right to prohibit Slavery in the Territories; that he holds that the accursed system is carried into them by virtue of the Constitution; that he deliberately struck out of the Toombs bill the clause submitting the Constitution of Kansas to a vote of the people; and that he was one of the grand conspirators to overthrow the Constitution as Washington, Jefferson and Franklin made it, and convert it into a Pro-Slavery instrument for the subversion of Liberty and the up-building of despotism; that he agrees with the present corrupt and profligate Administration on all present issues, involving measures or principles,—let these things be well known and the spell which has so long bound thousands of honest men to the fortunes of this bad, desperate demagogue would be forever broken, and they would cast him off as a traitor and a hypocrite with manly scorn and indignation.

Every right-minded man should do something to enlighten his deluded neighbors on these important matters. If a man will read the PRESS AND TRIBUNE a few months, we will guarantee that he votes intelligently at least, and that he will not be imposed upon and deluded. If he sins it will be with his eyes wide open.

We will mail the WEEKLY PRESS AND TRIBUNE from now until the 10th day of November—a week after the election—at the following rates:

MR. LINCOLN'S APPOINTMENTS.

Hon. Abraham Lincoln will address the people on the issues of the present campaign at the following times and places:

Augusta, Hancock	do	August 25
Carlinville, Macoupin county		August 31
Clinton, De Witt	do	September 2
Bloomington, McLean	do	September 4
Monticello, Piatt	do	September 6
Paris, Edgar	do	September 7
Hillsboro, Montgomery	do	September 9
Greenville, Bond	do	September 11
Edwardsville Madison	do	September 13

Other appointments will be made from time to time, and it is expected that Senator Trumbull, and other speakers will accompany Mr. Lincoln at most of the places.

JOINT DISCUSSIONS BETWEEN LINCOLN AND DOUGLAS

Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Douglas will address the people in joint debate, at the following places and times:

Freeport, Stephenson county		August 27
Jonesboro, Union	do	September 15
Charleston, Coles	do	September 18
Galesburg, Knox	do	October 7
Quincy, Adams	do	October 13
Alton, Madison	do	October 15

Douglas will open the discussion at Ottawa, Jonesboro, Galesburg and Alton, and speak one hour; Lincoln will follow, speaking one hour and a half, and Douglas will reply for half an hour. At Freeport, Charleston and Quincy, Lincoln will open the discussion, Douglas reply, and Lincoln rejoin.

Organization of the Republican Party in Illinois.

The Times indicates the way in which Douglas will attempt to rid himself of the odium of his Ottawa fraud. He will, so says his organ, confess that he was mistaken as to the particular resolution that he quoted as a part of the State Republican Platform; but will claim that a series of resolutions presented to and adopted by the Illinois Legislature, in 1855, for which the Anti-Nebraska members voted, indicate the true intent and policy of the party. The excuse will be as bad as the original offence. At that date, there was no Republican party in Illinois. The party was organized at Bloomington, in May, 1856, and the Platform there laid down was the first and, at that time, the only authoritative exposition of its principles. Up to that moment, Mr. Lincoln, though one of the earliest and most efficient of the opponents of the infamous Nebraska iniquity—the cause and beginning of all this intense sectionalism—had invariably claimed to be what he really was—a Whig. He had laid no claim to the name Republican, either by word or deed. When he was a candidate, during the previous winter, for the Senate of the United States, he was run as an Anti-Nebraska Whig and as nothing else. Though previous to the Bloomington Convention, men—some of them radical, but many intensely conservative—had called themselves Republican; the party had no tangible existence, no avowed creed, no established policy, no authoritative platform. When the old Free Soilers, Anti-Nebraska Democrats and Anti-Nebraska Whigs met at Bloomington, and, after a full, free and harmonious conference, agreed each with the other to unite in opposition to the Bogus Democracy, they framed the Platform of that year, and that instrument marks the date and is the foundation stone of Republicanism in Illinois. When, then, Mr. Douglas goes behind it, pitches upon any series of resolutions, no matter by whom introduced or by whom supported, and attributes their language—whether radical or conservative, timid or bold, strong or feeble—to the Republican party, he is guilty of an offence against the rules of political warfare for which he will be held to strict account. But the man who perpetrated the Ottawa fraud will not stop for trifles.

Time for Union-Saving to Begin.

It must be approaching time for Union saving to begin. Here is a month of the campaign gone, the Union in the meantime going to "everlasting smash," and the giant has not stirred a muscle to save it. Wherr are the old apostrophes to that gal-o-ri-ous bird of freedom? Where the denunciations of the "traitors," "parricides," and "fanatics" that have been amusing themselves with pulling his tail feathers out? Where the jeremiads that used to be said and sung on every stump, when the Union was the theme? There's but one way to account for the Senator's silence. He is in more danger than the Union. The Republicans have dropped the American eagle, and are making his feathers fly; and he is attending to what is nearest at hand. But the Union must be saved. If Douglas don't do it somebody else will. Who will take the contract to save the American Union? Douglas' hands are full (he's "bringing Lincoln to his milk?") and he can't. Who'll save the Union?

Protest of the Citizens of Cairo.

We are requested to publish the proceedings of a meeting of the citizens of Cairo, held a few days since, "for the purpose of taking into consideration the future protection of the city from inundation." Not having space for the entire proceedings, we give their substance below.

The resolutions adopted by the meeting charges the "Cairo City Company" with bad faith toward the purchasers of property, and with criminal neglect of their obligations; say that the protection of the town site from inundation is a work of trifling cost compared with the price at which lots have been sold; that purchasers have already amply paid for the construction of such a levee as is needed, and as the Trustees of the company have promised; and that they now demand it as a right. The protestants furt er say that their past experience precludes the possibility of placing further confidence in the promises of the "Cairo City Company," and that therefore they "appeal to the justice of their country."

Daniel Harmon, Esq., presided at the meeting, and Albert J. Jones, Esq., was the principal speaker on the occasion.

Douglas and New Milk.

"But whether he (Lincoln) knows or not, my point is this, and I will yet bring him to his milk on this point."—Douglas at Ottawa.

Douglas is clearly laboring under some strong delusion, and given up to believe a lie. How can he ever hope to bring "long Abe" to his milk? Abe Lincoln is not in the milky-way. If Douglas, in his sick and weak state, needs milk, let him advertise for "a wet nurse; for we can assure him that Lincoln don't give milk. Asses milk is good for invalids in Douglas' condition, and the Times' carriers delivers that every morning at its subscribers' doors. Why don't Douglas try it? He will find it to be the genuine "stump-tailed" variety of the lack-tail fluid—two parts of pus and nastiness to one of the "pure country dairy." Let Douglas subscribe for the Times, or let some kind friend of squatter sovereignty open his "buzzum" at once. Douglas is dying for milk! Milk for the "short boy."

The Fulton Bridge.

In our precedeing articles on this subject we have alluded to the beneficial results which would accrue to our city as well as to the stockholders of the Galena Road, and to those who may take stock in the bridge, by completion, at and early day, of this important and noble enterprise. In the great contest for commercial position between the cities of the West, none have shown more energy, and not one has met with so great rewards as the city of Chicago. She has joined ardently in the race with her neighbors, and the untiring industry and intelligent foresight displayed by her citizens, together with her commending position, has already made her the first city of the West, and proofs of her prosperity may be seen in the long and numerous trains of cars which daily arrive and depart over the many lines of land transit which lead to this point, besides the fleets of lake steamers, and vessels of all sizes, from craft of 1,000 tons to the canal boat of 100 tons, which are constantly passing over our water communications to and from this city.

It is hardly necessary to mention that but a few years have elapsed since Chicago was a mere trading post, and the surrounding country a mere wilderness and the home of the Indian; and these changes have all occurred in so short a time, that it is difficult for strangers to give credence to them. But let us ask, has our city arrived at the summit of her prosperity? Shall we abandon that "tide which taken at the flood leads on to fortune," or shall we still encourage, by every means in our power, such works of improvement as bear upon their face the marks of financial success and that will add to the prosperity of our city?

Among works of this character, we think the subject of these remarks stands pre-eminent, and we hope that our citizens will take that lively interest in its successful completion which its importance demands.

Upon the stockholders of the Galena Road rests in the first instance the grave responsibility of determining whether the enterprise shall be undertaken, as its success as a paying investment will depend upon a lease of the bridge to the Galena Company being effected; but as the stockholders of this road include among their number some of our best business men as well as those of New York and other eastern cities, we place great reliance in an affirmative vote being cast in October next.

To those proposing to take stock in the bridge we would say, that there are not many better and safer investments in the country than this will be with the guarantee of so strong a company as the Galena. The stock of any of our railroad companies which will pay an annual dividend usually of eight per cent., stands high in our business community, although it may be subject to fluctuation from various causes; but here is a stock to which is attached a reliable guarantee of eight per cent. each year, and which is subject to no diminution from the cost of maintenance or repairs, extraordinary or otherwise.

We will now give a brief description of the location and plans of the proposed bridge, and with them we will leave the subject of the Fulton Bridge for the present, to the consideration of those whom we believe to be so deeply interested in the result of this enterprise.

The site for a bridge at Fulton is so favorable in an engineering as well as a commercial point of view, that it early attracted attention, and it was one of the principal reasons for making it the terminus of the Fulton line. The width of the river is here so much less than at any other place, that it has obtained the name of the "Narrows," and its rocky banks are a natural barrier to any change in the shore line. The channel through the Narrows and for a short distance below it, is permanent, and at the bridge site very direct at all stages of water. The current here has a velocity of but two miles per hour.

Borings have been made in the bed of the river to a depth, in some instances, of seventy feet, although generally the compactness of the material prevented them from being made deeper than about fifty feet. The material was found to be sand, clay and gravel.

The foundation will be made of piles filled in with rubble stone. The former will be cut off generally at three feet below low water, when, after filling the spaces between them with the rubble stone, a strong platform of timber and plank will be firmly secured to them, on which to rest the masonry. All of the timber used in the foundations will be constantly under water, so that decay will not take place. The piles used in the foundations of the draw pier and the piers on each side of it, will be cut off at a depth ten feet greater than the others and filled in with stone. It will be necessary at these piers to make use of a different method for laying the masonry. The method of coffer-damming in such deep water (about sixteen feet at the lowest stage) would be very costly. To avoid this, caissons or water-tight boxes will be used. These are prepared on shore and floated to their positions over the piles, where they are sunk until they rest upon them, and after being secured to their places and pumped out, they are ready to receive the masonry. When the masonry is built up to above the water line, the sides, by a simple arrangement are unfastened and removed to the shore, while their bottoms are left to answer the same purposes as the platforms before mentioned.

The piers and abutments will be built of cut stone masonry, and will be similar in form to those of other first class bridges. The width at the bridge-seat will be seven feet, with the exception of the draw-pier and the piers on each side and contiguous to it. The two latter will be ten feet in width, and with the draw-pier, will be placed on foundations twelve feet below the surface of low water. The draw-pier will be about four hundred feet in length, in the direction of the thread of the current, and forty feet in width. The centre part, on which the draw spans turn, will be circular and formed of masonry; the other portions will be constructed of timbers formed similarly to wharfing, and will be placed on piles cut off three feet below the surface of low water. Compartments eight feet in width will be made on the inside of the timber work, and passing entirely around it, to contain rubble stone. The bridge-keeper's house will be placed on the upper end of this pier. A timber breakwater loaded with stone will be made to protect the pier. The other piers will be shaped at the upper ends into the form of breakwaters, and will be protected with a sheathing of timber, which from its elasticity is better adapted to receiving the first shock of any floating object which may be borne against it. That part of the draw pier which is composed of masonry, will be formed in the following manner:

The centre on which the pivot rests will be ten feet in diameter. Around this, and nine feet from it, a ring of masonry six feet thick will be built and connected with the centre wall by arches and inverts, and by four arms or buttresses. The width over all, or the diameter of the stone pier, will be forty feet.

Through this pier and all the others, as well as the abutments, vertical apertures will be made leading through the timber platforms to the spaces between the piles, so that in case of the wearing away of the material around the piles, its place can at all times be supplied by rubble stone, which after a time would make a solid stone encasement of the piles, and would effectually protect them from all danger, either from settlement or any other cause. No precise form for the truss has as yet been decided upon, although several plans are under consideration.

There is now so little public work under progress as compared with former years, that it is expected that the whole structure will be let very low. Labor and all kinds of materials which would be required, can be obtained at a much reduced cost, and a more favorable time than the present for the prosecution of the work could not have been selected. This structure can now be built at a cost which will be twenty-five or thirty per cent. less than it would have cost at any time for the past four or five years. The engineers' estimates for the bridge, depot-grounds on the west side of the river, depot-buildings, connecting tracks, etc, amount to $347,161—a sum which is considered amply sufficient for the purpose.

Henry Clay and Abraham Lincoln.

In 1844, when Douglas was vociferating all over Illinois that Henry Clay had sold his country to Great Britain, that he was a drunkard, a liar, a gambler, and grossly and notoriously licentious, Abe Lincoln was putting forth herculean efforts to carry the State for the great Kentuckian. And when the August elections came off, and it became apparent that Clay could not carry Illinois, but that he might possibly carry Indiana, Lincoln geared up his horse and wagon and started for the Hoosier State, where he traveled four hundred miles making speeches for Henry Clay; nor did he start for home until the day of the election of 1844, which made a Tennessee Probate Court lawyer President of the United States.

McDonough County.

The Republicans of McDonough County held a Mass Convention on the 21st inst., appointed delegates to the Augusta Congressional Convention, which assembles to-day, and instructed them to vote for the nomination of Hon. O. H. Browning, of Quincy.

The Atlantic Monthly.

The September number is at hand. The following is the table of contents:

Eloquence; The Kinloch Estate, and how it was settled; The Birth-Mark; Rambles in Aquidneck; Ann Potter's Lesson; Le Marias du Cygne; Youth; Pintal; The House that was just like its Neighbors; Daphnaides; Water-Lilies; Fifty and Fifteen; Illinois in Springtime; An Evening with the Telegraph Wires; The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table; Literary Notices; Obituary.

The opening paper, with its brief caption—"Eloquence"—should not be overlooked on account of the triteness of the topic. It is doubtless from the pen of Emerson, and whatever he touches ever thereafter shines with diamond lustre. In the present case, as usual, he abounds with original illustrations, and apt quotations from the best authors, ancient and modern. Eloquence is truly and forcibly defined as "the best speech of the best soul. It may well stand," he continues, "as the exponent of all that is great or immortal in the mind." Of course this is intended to apply to the highest order of eloquence.

We have neither time nor space to speak of the several more meritorious papers of the number as they deserve. The conclusion of "The Kinloch Estate" is in keeping with the merit of the previous chapters. "Ann Potter's Lesson" is another of those Yankee sketches in which the genuine down-eastern vernacular is ennobled by being made the vehicle of just sentiment and true affection. "Pintal" grows out of the strange social chaos of California in 1849, and is full of dramatic interest. "The Autocrat of the Breakfast-Table" is, if possible, livelier than ever. Besides his prose melange of fun and philosophy, he gives us a pair of capital humorous poems. Don't overlook "Illinois in Springtime." It is a genial sketch. The writer is a little sharp on some of Chicago's peculiarities, but on the whole does her no great injustice.

But we are outrunning our space. Phillips, Sampson & Co., Boston, are the publishers of the Atlantic Monthly. To be had of all the periodical dealers.

Practical Uses of the Ocean Telegraph.

The New York Tribune refers to a historical fact of great interest in connection with the success of the Atlantic Telegraph. We quote:

> On the 18th of June, 1812, our Government declared war against Great Britain, under the inspiration of our younger, more ardent, less experienced Republican politicians of that day, overruling the judgment of their older compatriots, who had endured and still remembered the trials and sufferings of our Revolutionary struggle. We had many causes of complaint against Great Britain; but one of the most prominent and palpable was based on her Orders in Council, by which our trade with the Continent had been most outrageously harassed and crippled. Those Orders in Council had been repealed before we declared war, though the fact was unknown and unsuspected here. Had it been known—in other words, had the Atlantic Telegraph then existed—it is quite probable that war would not have been declared, that further negotiations would have been had, and an amicable redress of grievances attained, saving to each country thousands of precious lives and hundreds of millions of dollars.

And we may add to this a suggestion to which we have before referred—that had the Atlantic Telegraph been in operation at the close of that war—a war into which both nations were hurried for want of a proper understanding with each other,—the battle of New Orleans would never have been fought. The treaty of peace was concluded on the 19th of December, 1814, and the battle of New Orleans was fought on the 8th of January following, a period of nearly six weeks intervening between the two dates. By the telegraph, the news could have been sent from London to New Orleans in six hours or less, instead of six tardy weeks. Even a steamship would have prevented the mutual bloodshed, but in 1814 nobody had dreamed of either steamship or ocean telegraph. This is a landmark in history by which we may realise that the world "does move," though, to our impatience, rather slowly.

The Robbery of the Bethel Bank—$60,000 Found in a Carpet-Bag.

The robbery of the Bethel (Ct.) Bank of $86,000 a couple of weeks since set the New York detective police on the qui vive, the bank officers having offered a reward of five per cent. on all the money recovered. The police had not the least clue to the perpetrators of the robbery, but believed their head-quarters were in New York, and at once threw around the most adroit rogues known to them a perfect network of espionage. Two were finally arrested, but nothing could be proved against them. Still the police did not relax in their efforts, and at last, in a most unexpected manner, recovered the greater part of the lost money. We quote from the [illegible]:

> Capt. Walling, (chief of the detective force,) resides at No. 320 Second avenue, where he hires apartments of Wm. O'Donnell, who owns and occupies the house.
>
> About nine o'clock last evening, a man apparently much disguised, called at O'Donnell's house, and inquired if Captain Walling lived there. Being answered in the affirmative, he asked if he was in. Being told that he was not in, he handed Mr. O'Donnell a small black satchel which he held in his hand, requested him to give it to the Captain when he arrived, and immediately left.
>
> Mr. O'Donnell keeps a public house in Third avenue, to which place he went soon after the above occurrence. Captain Walling, on his way home at a late hour, stopped for O'Donnell, and the two walked home together. The latter had scarcely thought of the carpet-bag since it was left, but as they entered the house it occurred to him and he mentioned it. The Captain thought it singular, and the two, with a brother of O'Donnell, determined to examine it at once. It was suggested that it might be an infernal machine for the Captain's destruction, and it was accordingly opened with caution. Upon opening the bag, it was found to contain a large quantity of the bills which had been stolen from the Hatters' Bank. The Captain took possession of the funds so unexpectedly obtained, and this morning brought it down to the Deputy Superintendent's office. The money was done up in three packages; the bills, however, were not assorted, and when our reporter left had not been counted. It was estimated, however, that there was at least sixty thousand dollars.
>
> Mr. Greenwood, of Barnum's Museum, who has several friends connected with the bank, this forenoon went to Bethel to inform the officers of the discovery and get the cashier.
>
> The satchel contained nothing but the money. It is supposed that the robbers finding themselves closely watched, and not daring to use the money, concluded to return a portion of it. It appears, however, that they retained the handsome sum of $26,000.

Horace Greeley Explains the Pleasures of being a Member of Congress.

The N. Y. Tribune, a few days ago, read a lecture to Congressional aspirants, in which the writer very strongly depicts the dog's life to which people subject themselves by becoming members of Congress. According to him, life on a tread-mill is quite tolerable compared with that to which unhappy men are sentenced by the vote of the people. Mr. Greeley has "been there," and knows whereof he affirms. He says:

> "We cannot comprehend the passion for a seat in Congress. What is it to be an honorable member? We will tell the reader what it is. It is to live in mean hotels, and pay magnificent bills; it is to be obliged to breathe bad air, to sit in an uncomfortable seat, to be bored by long speeches; to be importuned for pamphlets, to attend to the business of other people, neglecting one's own; to exist in a perpetual fuss of franking, to watch your district much more closely than you watch the kingdom of Heaven; to miss your night's rest, to be slandered, to be bothered, to be importuned, to be embarrassed, to make speeches listened to by nobody, to mail them to everybody to be read by nobody, to frank until your arm aches, and to miss the greatest growler in your district at last."

Steam Fire Engines in Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the New York Tribune writes as follows in regard to these great moral reformers:

> Your authorities ought to send a deputation here to witness a good rousing fire, and see for themselves how complete a damper the steam engine is on such an occasion. At midnight on Friday a destructive fire broke out in a three story brick building at the corner of Shippen and Swanson streets, occupied by cabinet makers. Two adjoining houses of no great value were burnt. Thence it extended to the Mariner's Church, but here the steam engines interposed a veto and evidently stopped what, with nothing but hand engines, would have been a heavy loss of property. Two of these machines sucked up water from the river close by, and poured an astonishing deluge on all the inflammable neighborhood. They undoubtedly saved property equal to six times their cost. The whole vicinity was made up of combustibles which nothing but steam power could have saved. Hereafter it would seem as if a sweeping fire could never be repeated in this city. In less than a year some twelve of these powerful machines will be in use among us. They meet with high favor from citizens, firemen and insurance offices. They are moreover great moral reformers, abolishing the vocation of an army of loafers and rowdies whose principal occupation it has been to man the ropes and foment the murderous broil.

Tribute to a Young American Engineer.

From a report in the New York Courier, of the congratulatory speech made by Mr. Perrine at the celebration, in Brooklyn, of the laying of the Atlantic Cable, we find the following:

> "Toward the conclusion of Mr. Perrine's speech, he paid an eloquent tribute to the personal character of Capt. Hudson, to the mechanical ability of Mr. Everett, the engineer of the Niagara, and after citing the fact that the British Government had spent fifty thousand dollars for the contrivances to pay out the cable, and that Mr. Everett for fifteen hundred dollars constructed a machine so superior, that the former were abandoned and Mr. Everett's machine adopted, and he proposed that the crowd should repair to the residence of Mr. Everett, corner of Montague and Clinton streets, and give him nine cheers. The suggestion was adopted."

A Summer Letter.

Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 20, 1858.

From the land of the broad lake and the far-stretching prairie to this innumerable company of hills, and this general assembly of rocks, mountains and valleys, has become little more than the journey of a day; but with a filial regard for the ways of the fathers, and a dislike of hot weather and dusty cars, I embarked on the Potomac, a stout propeller of the American Transportation Company, and came the old roundabout way.

It was a hot summer night when we steamed out of the river, and looked back on the sentinel lights which kept watch along Michigan avenue, and all round the horizon from every little cloud the lightning was playing in sportive flashes. But on the lake the air was fresh and cool, and no mosquitoes joined our company to vex our "calm repose." At Milwaukee we took on board all the grain which could be found, and were delayed a long while in loading a few thousand bushels in the old fashioned way. But even this had an end, and we sailed off towards the eastern shore, passing everything (not going our way).

We ran down into Grand Traverse Bay to wood up, and found two or three little settlements of some half a dozen houses each, the inhabitants subsisting by cutting wood for boats and fishing. The Indians occupy this region, and here is a Mission Station of the Old School Presbyterian Church. There are about sixty Indian children connected with the school. We took on board a lady teacher of the School, who was from a New England city, and who after spending five years in this wilderness was going to Detroit for her first vacation of one week. She represented that they had many difficulties and discouragements, and complained particularly that as soon as they had somewhat educated and civilized the Indian girls they would get married and would then relapse into ignorance and barbarism—a melancholy testimony as to the influence of married life.

We lay at Mackinaw an hour or two, where I enjoyed the pleasure of ministering to the relief of several newspaper famishing Chicago people. I know of no way in which one can do a kind and good act with so little sacrifice as by stuffing one's pockets with the latest papers, when going to these ends of the earth. It is a sight to make one's heart bleed to see, without the means of relieving them, people accustomed to their daily paper wrecked on such a desolate island, waiting with eager, anxious faces as the boat nears the pier.

Down through Lake Huron we sailed, in sight of the wooded shore, until we entered the river with old Fort Gratiot on the right. The ride through the river past Port Huron, Detroit and the other places is very pleasant. Thence pushing across Lake Erie, and stopping a while at Cleveland, we came safely to port in Buffalo Harbor.

We had a pleasant company of some twenty-five persons, and there is no more pleasant way of spending time than in sailing round the lakes in a good boat with good company. Capt. Gebherd is one of the jolliest and best of Captains, and did everything to make the trip pleasant. We had one old fellow who appeared to be sailing up and down the lakes for amusement. He knew everybody and every place, and walked about as though he owned the lakes and was taking a look at his property. We had one fellow, the agent of a patent churn, who did his best to make himself and everybody else miserable. He had a submissive wife, who had fallen into his clutches to expiate the sins of some pre-Adamite state, or for a course of discipline for a future state. But notwithstanding this little drawback, the trip was very pleasant.

I have been spending several days among the Berkshire hills. No one can fail of being delighted with their ever varying pictures of beauty. Southern Berkshire has become classic ground, and nestled among its hills and valleys are the country houses of many who have given to the region a world-wide fame in exchange for its inspiring scenery and health-giving breezes.

Stockbridge, one of the finest towns in the region, is just now particularly famous as the birthplace of Cyrus W. Field, the man of the day. Here still lives his father at the age of eighty years, and here one of his brothers, an eminent New York lawyer, has a most beautiful residence.

Just north of Stockbridge is Lenox, a little village nestling among hills and lakes, with a scenery of surpassing beauty. Here Fanny Kemble Butler lives, and on a little hill overlooking the village stands the old village church, with the graveyard beside it, which Mrs. Butler so much admired that she was willing to stipulate that if laid there she would make no disturbance provided she might occasionally raise her head and look on the fair valley below.

Here Miss C. M. Sedgwick resides. Here is the farm where Henry Ward Beecher spent several summers. Here are the elms and maples under which he lay and dreamed through the long summer days and which we read of in the Star Papers. No other farm ever bore such [illegible] York, and Ex-Gov. Clifford, of New Bedford, and many other distinguished men spend their summers.

Western Massachusetts is everywhere looking very beautiful. The great quantities of rain have been just the thing for this country, and the crops are very promising. This valley of the Connecticut is if possible more beautiful than ever. It seems to riot in the wealth of an Illinois prairie, and the hills roll away in all their summer glory.

Chicago Foot Prints Abroad.

MADISON, August 23, 1858.

Editors Chicago Press and Tribune:

Commerce has her laws, and she, sooner or later, bursts all political bands, and vaults herself to the seat of empire.

Madison is in another State; she is the capital, the political focus of Wisconsin; but Chicago is mistress of commerce, and the merchants of Madison burst all pride of State, all wooings from her sister—the nice little Miss Milwaukee—and they take the wings of your own Fond du Lac and fly to the Garden City as the home of Commerce. As I walk up and down the streets I meet the evidence on every hand, that Chicago rules the Northwest, and I find that her merchant princes are daguerrotyped upon the walls of every branch of commerce. In the Dry Goods stores I saw the lights and shadows as well as the substantials from the palace of Cooley, Farwell & Co., on Wabash avenue. Passing from cellar to attic of a five story grocer's citadel, I found each floor fortified against the attacks of want by the Badgers, with supplies drawn from the everlasting armory of Reynolds, Ely & Co. The white shining faces which the neat cottages everywhere present, all bow in reverence before the paint and oil shrine of Lewis & Page. The sick and the dying sing the song of blessings and curses as they remember the piles of drugs consumed which had been drawn from the mammoth store of Bockee, Innis & Co. The harmonious and happy ones, who see flowers and sunshine strewn upon every pathway, each point me to their parlor tables, on which lie the sweet notes of music, all bearing the finger marks of Higgins Brothers. The sugar cured Hams which hung out their yellow faces upon the outer wall of each "family grocery," bear the sign manual of Dupee & Co. The elegant and perfect Threshing Machines and Grain Separators, which stand in the public marts, challenging comparison with the world's very best, are stamped with the impress of the genius and name of H. A. Pitts of Chicago. The sound of a "church going bell" rings out the clear intonations of B. W. Raymond & Co. The very pumps in their wells look Haggard. If any thing gets loose, or requires binding, the mind of this whole people is turned towards Culver, Page & Hoyne. If the intellect is aroused, no one pretends to look through any other lens than that one which points direct to the bookstores of D. B. Cooke & Co. and S. C. Griggs & Co. The PRESS AND TRIBUNE is the daily companion of each man of sense. If I appeal to the "understandings" of men, women and children, they all point me, in their wisdom, to the great shoe and boot warehouse of Doggett, Bassett & Hills. The names of your self-sacrificing and heroic public men are engraved upon the side of every iron horse which prances over the beautiful prairies 'twixt here and the Garden City. The young men who stand at the desks of every Counting House, and who hold a "balance" of power which strictest honor approves, all point me to your Commercial Colleges, and bless the day when Bryant & Stratton and Bell & Sloan laid their foundations broad and deep enough to meet the wants of every young man in the nation. The beautiful and unequalled Scales manufactured by Gates, Warner, Chalmers & Fraser, at their great Eagle Works, under the charge of Superintendent Hitchcock, which took the first premium over every other scale in the world, at all the State Fairs in the Northwest, are finding their way into public favor and are fast taking the place of even Fairbanks' best. When I examine the point of difference and find the perfection and exactitude of balance, over every other scale, I can but worship at the shrine of human progression.

But I cannot follow the various foot prints of Chicago genius and commercial power in all its wide spread influence. I might talk of Architecture, and tell you of Van Osdel's genius as it hangs its banners upon the inner and outer walls of both cottage and palace, of both the Church and Halls of State, wherever I go. I might mention the works of Healer, as they radiate from his union of science and art, but I must close.

TRAVELLER.

Fifteen Hundred Dollars for Whipping his Wife.

A man in good circumstances, living on the line of Pitt township, adjoining the city, attended the Atlantic Cable celebration on Thursday night, and took enough of the intoxicating up to make him forget the "golden rule." He went home late, and without any cause whatever whipped his wife (the mother of two lovely children) most unmercifully. Yesterday morning she bundled up her clothes, and was leaving her home to return to her parents. When the repentant husband, perceiving the drift of her preparations, he began to make promises of better treatment in the future if she would only not leave him. She, however, persisted in her determination to go; and he, as an inducement for her to stay, offered to transfer to her the house and lot they occupied, worth some $1,700, which she accepted. There is a debt of about $180 on the lot. Ald. Daft was engaged yesterday in making the draft.—Pittsburgh Journal, 21st.

Persona and Political.

Parson Brownlow lately had occasion to exercise his vituperative talent upon T. W. Rich, a Democratic politician of the subterranean order, who had written a note to the parson, calling him a liar, rascal, etc., with strong accompanying expletives. Parson B. characteristically reviews the career of Rich, and adds:

> I am pleased to learn that you make it a daily business to abuse me. I have managed through life to incur the displeasure of all liars, adulterers, gamblers, drunkards, thieves and low down scaveners, and by this means satisfied strangers that I am opposed to these classes of men. I would be very sorry to hear of your speaking well of me, as it might lead persons unacquainted with me, to suppose there is some trait in my character that a scoundrel admires!

—The Leavenworth (Kansas) Ledger states that immediate application will be made to Gov. Denver to call an extra session of the Legislature, to provide for the formation of a Constitution for the Territory, but that the application will probably be unsuccessful.

—Archbishop Hughes has presented a magnificent pair of carriage horses to Bishop McGill, of Richmond. In chronicling this event, the editor of the N. Y. Express remarks:

> We learn, with pleasure, of the rising wealth of our old friend and abuser. In 1855–6 he had not even a bed to lay his head upon, (see his controversy with Brooks,) but now he has horses to give away, as well as to ride.

—As to the date of the Queen's message, it was written two months ago, and deposited, under seal, with the American Minister in London, to be opened and sent as soon as the Cable was laid and in operation. On Monday last, when the dispatch was sent, the Queen was actually in Prussia, visiting her daughter.

—It has been wittily remarked that Cyrus W. Field is talked of for the Presidency because he is the greatest wire-puller in the country.

—It will be remembered that Gerrit Smith declared himself in favor of the acquisition of Cuba when in Congress, and it is now said that in stumping New-York for Governor he will go in strongly for that measure.

—The papers say that N. P. Banks will be nominated for re-election to the Gubernatorial chair of Massachusetts.

—A party of savans from Cambridge and vicinity have just returned from a visit to the Adirondac regions, where Agassiz proved himself the best shot of the party.

—Jenny Lind, in a recent letter to an American friend, expresses "an earnest desire to cross the ocean once more."

Railway Matters.

AN IMPORTANT SUIT.—The Peoria & Oquawka Railroad Company has instituted a suit against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co., in the form of an application for injunction and the appointment of a receiver. The case will have a hearing before Judge Powell at Peoria to-day. The Transcript says:

> This application grows out of a contract of lease, &c., between the Peoria & Oquawka and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Companies, and also a contract between the P. & O. Co. and Messrs. Kellogg, Moss & Co. The above is a very important suit and a matter of great interest to all friends of the road. Eminent counsel are engaged—C. Beckwith of Chicago and Julius Manning of Peoria for complainant, and I. N. Arnold of Chicago and James F. Joy of Detroit for Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R. Co. Judge Purple of this city for Kellogg, Moss & Co.

A ROUNDABOUT ROAD TO NEW ORLEANS.—The New York Central Railroad have lately sold through tickets from New York to New Orleans over a new and extraordinary route. The course was from New York to Buffalo by Central Railroad, to Cleveland by Lake Shore Railroad, to Detroit by railroad, Detroit to Grand Haven by Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad, to Milwaukee by steamer, to Chicago by railroad, to Cairo by railroad, to New Orleans by steamer. The design of the New York Central in this is to divert travel from the Michigan Central, with which it is now at war. Eastern travelers, however, who value their time, will only go once via Milwaukee to New Orleans.

ILLINOIS INTELLIGENCE.

ARREST—ESCAPE—AND RE-ARREST.—On Saturday last, news having reached here that a man named Mathew Welch, suspected of having a hand in the murder of Edwards in this city last winter, was at Morris, an officer was dispatched to accomplish his arrest. Deputy Constable Whitman was soon on the ground, and had him on the cars. Between Seneca and Marseilles, however, the man managed to get outside and jumped from the cars, breaking for the Illinois river, where he found a boat in which he crossed, leaving the constable on the opposite side. Notice of the affair, however, was conveyed to the other side, and the man was re-arrested and brought to Ottawa, where he is safe in the lock up.—Ottawa Free [illegible]

JUVENILE DEPRAVITY.—On Sunday afternoon last two boys of the names of Levi Howard, aged 15, and Andrew Howard, aged 12, wickedly beat a boy named John Carroll so badly, that fears were entertained as to his recovery. It appears that the Howards had been in the habit of milking the cows belonging to the citizens of the west side and that Carroll had told of them. The Howards met Carroll and beat him severely. After they had beaten him until he was insensible they covered him over with sand. His sisters discovered the body, and called the assistance of her father, who conveyed him to his home and called in Dr. Bicknell. The Howards were arraigned before Justice Bannister, who sent them to Janesville for 40 days.—Beloit Herald, 21st.

DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A RATTLESNAKE.—We are informed that Benjamin H. Culver died at the residence of Wm. M. Hall, Jr., on the morning of the 20th inst., (Friday). His death was caused by the bite of a rattlenake.—Pantagraph, 23d.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
IN THE WORLD.
GEORGE A. PRINCE & CO.'S
CELEBRATED MELODEONS.
For DURABILITY, NEATNESS, and BEAUTY OF EXTERIOR FINISH, and more than all, for Richness, Depth, and Purity of Tone,
THESE MELODEONS STAND UNRIVALLED.
THE DIVIDED SWELL, A very desirable feature, and secured to us by LETTERS PATENT, can only be obtained in Melodeons of our own manufacture. By means of this improvement Tenor and Treble Solos and Duets may be played with the full power of the instrument, while the Bass can be performed in a soft subdued tone, not otherwise attainable. Our reeds are so constructed that the MELODEON REMAINS IN PERFECT TUNE.
Thousands of them have been in use for many years that have never needed any repairs whatever, and we believe there is no musical instrument that requires less expense to keep it in perfect order.
Our Melodeons are all cased in Rosewood and finished as smoothly as the best Pianos. They are compactly boxed for shipping, and the cost of freight is but little to any part of the United States. They are so arranged that any one can unpack and put them up without difficulty.
We have been awarded
FIRST PREMIUMS
For our Melodeons wherever we have exhibited them in competition with others, and we have the satisfaction of believing that
Our Constant Aim to Excel is appreciated by the Musical public.

Great National Work.
Volume 8 Now Ready.
COL. BENTON'S ABRIDGMENT
OF THE
DEBATES OF CONGRESS.
IT EMBRACES THE PERIOD OF JOHN Quincy Adam's Administration, and consequently contains the celebrated debate on the appointment of representatives to the proposed Diplomatic Congress at Panama. In that debate the great question of International law, and of the proper relations and conditions of this country with respect to other States of this Continent, that are again arising in the proposed abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and in kindred subjects, were discussed by some of the ablest minds that this country has produced. Among the debaters on this occasion may be noted such names as Hayne, Robbins of Rhode Island, Woodbury, White of Tennessee, Johnston of Louisiana, Van Buren, Holmes, Randolph. In fact, the discussion was one of the most able that has occurred in our annals. The speech of Col. Benton on this occasion was pronounced by Mr. Randolph "the ablest that had been delivered in Congress since John Marshall's speech in the Jonathan Robbins case," in 1800.
Price per vol. $3 00 in Cloth; $3 50 Law Sheep; $4 50 half Calf.
☞ The Abridgement of the Debates will be completed in 15 vols., 750 pages each, comprising what is now contained in over one hundred volumes. A complete, accurate and convenient Index is appended to each volume.

THE HOUSEHOLD WAVERLY.
Published by Subscription.
THE WORKS OF WALTER SCOTT have incorporated themselves with the thoughts and concerns of the whole civilized world for more than a quarter of a century, and have had a controlling influence over the age in which he lived. Who is there that, on looking back over a great portion of his life, does not find the genius of Scott administering to his pleasures, beguiling his cares, and soothing his lonely hours."—Washington Irving.

Publishers, 39 & 41 Lake street.
In truth, the best novels of Scott are as well adapted to refine and strengthen the mind and to elevate the character as an epic poem; and is may be alleged with perfect truth, of the whole series, that there is nothing whatever in them calculated to contaminate the sentiments, or the influence of which is not unmistakably on the side of virtue.—Boston Courier. au2-a343-1y

DR. MANN'S
AGUE BALSAM,
UNRIVALLED IN THE HISTORY OF MEDICINE.
WHY! BECAUSE SINCE THE FIRST settlements of the rich prairies and fertile valleys of the West, it has been the great study of all Physicians to produce a perfect cure for ague, fever and all bilious diseases, so thorough y prevalent and so fatal in their results. The mineral and vegetable kingdoms have heretofore been ransacked in vain, and the remedies only partially successful, but this is entirely vegetable and will never fail. Reader, we defy you to find a case so obstinate that Mann's Ague Balsam will not cure; we do not hesitate to say that the remedy has at length been found that will never fail. Read the following:

Oberlin, Ohio, June 1st, 1858.
Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents: Having had occasion to use some of your Ague Balsam in my family, I find it the most prompt and efficient remedial agent for the certain cure of ague ever used, and as a strengthening tonic I think it has no equal. Your Ob't Serv't,
SAM'L BIGELOW.

Olney, Ill., September 20, 1857.
Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents: Your Ague Balsam is the only remedy that seems to meet the wants of the people of this locality. We have, upon our own shelves, all the popular remedies of the day for the cure of intermittents, but Dr. Mann's Balsam sells in preference to all others, from the simple fact that it cures. It is destined to excel all other remedies ever offered. Truly Yours,
G. W. BAYER.

Dr. Mann & Co., Galion, Ohio—Gents: Your Ague Balsam is the people's own remedy, in this part of the country. [illegible] to fail in any case when properly used. It is looked upon as a perfect antidote to malarious diseases.
Very Truly Yours, REED & PHILLIPS.

Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co., Galion, Ohio—Gentlemen: I would say for the benefit of all concerned, that I have a little daughter, about six years of age, that has had the chills ever since last fall; we could do nothing with it until we received your Balsam. We commenced giving it according to directions and are happy to state that she has not had a chill since she commenced taking it. I shall use my exertions in the bounds of my influence to give your Balsam a circulation.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhoea in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

Special Notices.

Dr. J. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, for the cure of Fever and Ague, beyond all controversy the safest and best remedy that can be used by the afflicted for all diseases of the above nature. The most violent attacks of this dreadful disease have often been prevented by the use of this reliable remedy. The "Bitters" have been used by the proprietor, in an extensive practice, in the treatment of Fever and Ague for a number of years and its wonderful curative powers are well known both to the press and the public. Those who desire a thorough renovation of their entire system should not fail to use the "Bitters."

For sale by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere. au18-2wd&w.

Dyspepsia and Fits.—Dr. O. Phillips BROWN, The Great Curer of Consumption, was for several years so badly afflicted with Dyspepsia that for a part of the time he was confined to his bed. He was eventually cured by a prescription furnished him by a young clairvoyant girl. This prescription, given him by a mere child, while in a trance, has cured everybody who has taken it—never having failed once. It is equally as safe in cases of Fits as Dyspepsia. The ingredients may be found in any Drug Store. I will send this prescription to any person on the receipt of one stamp to pay postage. Address DR. O. PHILLIPS BROWN,

Charles' London Cordial Gin.—The Original and only London Gin Imported. This Gin, distilled in London from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the Vegetable Kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent medical men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic drink in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, the Kidneys and the Bowels, Nervous Debility, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to settlers in the Southern and Western States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and pints thirty-eight cents, by all Druggists, Grocers, Fruiterers, and Country Merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'. NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Chicago, Ill., of PENTON, ROBINSON & SMITH, No. 15 South Water street; HAVEN, TYRRELL & CO., No. 57 South Water street.

Sawyer's Fluid Extract of Bark, an infallible remedy for the Fever and Ague, and the various forms of Billious Diseases, Intermittent, Remittent, Chill Fever, and Dumb Ague, having their origin in malaria of very fertile and marshy districts, prepared by Dr. S. S. Sawyer, Druggist and Chemist, and sold by Sawyer Paige & Co. No. 16 Lake st., Chicago.

This remedy is prepared entirely from vegetable substances and contains no mercury, arsenic, or anything that can prove injurious to the system. Its effects are those of a deobstruent and tonic, well adapted to restore the healthy action of the Liver and Stomach, whose functions are so generally impaired in this class of diseases.

Quinine and other tonics serve only in many cases to break the chills, but do not remove the diseases of the liver and [illegible], on which the chill and fever depend; hence the usefulness of the "Fluid Extract of Bark," (particularly in regions where Physicians can not readily be consulted,) which contains all the qualities suited to the indications of these maladies.

Hundreds of testimonials in regard to the efficacy of the medicine, from persons of respectability, have been given to the proprietor—but he does not make use of them as he prefers to have the medicine introduce itself securely on its merits.

A most Valuable Remedy for Headache.—Dr. R. A. Wilson's Tonic Cathartic and Anti-Dyspeptic Pills. Rev. W. G. Howard, Pastor of the 1st Baptist Church, Chicago, in a letter addressed to Messrs. Fahnestock & Davis, dated June 18th, 1858, says:—"During the last twenty years I have made use of a great variety of medicines prescribed by Allopathic and Homoeopathic physicians, but all have failed; and I had relinquished all hopes of relief, until I was induced to resort to WILSON'S PILLS. These have effectually relieved me in repeated instances of late, and I can cheerfully and conscientiously recommend them to others who are similarly affected." This sovereign remedy is for sale by J. H. Reed & Co., Sargent & Ilsley, Penton & Co., Gale Bros., Franks, Ball & Co., E. L. O'Hara, M. Jerome, Thayer & Pike, H. F. Smith & Co., L. F. Pure Milk! Pure Milk!

THE UNDERSIGNED IS RECEIVING daily, and offering for sale, PURE MILK from the dairies owned by the following named men in Elgin and vicinity: S. J. Kimball, Dea. Luther Herrick, S. P. Burdick, P. H. Smith, N. Ballard, General O. Wilcox, C. Knox, Cyrus H. Larkin, J. J. Cook, A. C. Bucklin, D. C. Adams, Sherman, H. Sherman, J. R. McLean, J. Salisbury; all of which are well known by the old citizens or residents of Chicago, as being amongst the best and most reliable farmers in Northern Illinois. Their cows are kept upon tame grasses and grain and roots raised upon their farms, and kept at pasture in summer, and are perfectly healthy. We challenge investigation, and any one is at liberty to examine our Milk at any time. And we pledge ourselves to pay TEN Dollars a quart for all the swill or impure Milk that we have or may sell. I. H. WANZER.
Chicago, June 17th, 1858.

We are well acquainted with the above named farmers, and know that their dairies are kept as well and healthy as any dairies in Illinois that we are acquainted with; and believe that the owners would not, under any circumstances, be guilty of selling impure Milk. And we are well satisfied that Messrs. Wanzer & Co., who sell Milk from their dairies, sell nothing but such Milk as they receive from said dairies.
E. J. COLBY.
A. J. JOSLYN.
B. W. RAYMOND.

MR. I. H. WANZER: Yes, I am more than willing to add my testimony to the evidence of Elder Joslyn, Esq. Colby, ex-Mayor Raymond, and others.

"Do I know those men who furnish the milk you sell?" Sir, I have known them from the start. Eighteen years ago we were "squatters" side by side on what was then the "public domain," but what is now their farms, covered with cultivated grasses. I know that their cows "live in clover," and retain that caudatory appendage their city cousins kept in distilleries so commonly forego; that their dairy fixtures and appurtenances exhibit proof, that in the country cleanliness is considered a cardinal virtue; that the milk reaches you via the C. & G. U. "milky way"—cool, sweet and pure.

"What am I willing to say to this community of you?" Why, that you are Kane county boys, reared in the rural districts—Nature's noblemen—and that I believe you as incapable of adulterating milk as of poisoning children in any other way.
EDW'D W. BREWSTER.

N. B. I hold myself responsible for no milk except my own. That can be had of wagons No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, marked "Elgin Dairy, I. H. Wanzer."

A Courageous Woman.

The following account of the courageous conduct of a young lady, has been communicated to a New Jersey paper: A Mr. M., whose health was found to be impaired by the climate of the seaboard, was induced to remove from the city of New York to the interior of Illinois, his family consisting of his wife and three children, the oldest a young lady of seventeen summers, and the youngest some three years. Early that spring, a maiden lady, a particular friend of the family, and very much attached to Mrs. M. and her children, removed from New York and took up her abode with them. She had not been long in her new home before she was suddenly taken away by death. While Mr. and Mrs. M. were attending the funeral of Miss W., Miss M. was left in charge of the house and the young child, and the room containing the effects of the late Miss W., which was situated in the second story of the house, was locked by the young lady, and the child put to sleep in an adjoining room, while Miss M. was busying herself with her duties below.

Some time afterwards Miss M., hearing a noise up stairs, and supposing the child had awoke, proceeded to look after it, but found it sleeping quietly. With a thought as quick as electricity, she concluded that some one had entered Miss W.'s room from the outside for the purpose of robbing it. Acting on this theory, she immediately went down stairs, procured her father's double-barreled gun, and returning, opened the door of the room of the late Miss W., when her expectations were fully realized in beholding a stout man in the very act of appropriating a gold watch and chain, which he had just taken from a trunk of the late Miss W. She ordered him to lay down the watch, and the fellow, noticing her determined attitude and manner, very readily complied. She next ordered him to take the money from his pocket which he had extracted; he denied having taken any, when she gave a more peremptory order, accompanied with suitable movements of a military nature, when he, thinking "discretion the better part of valor," produced the money and deposited it with the watch. She then gave him the passage and orders to march, which he readily obeyed.

On the return of her parents, measures were taken which proved successful, and the fellow, after being caught, was speedily brought to trial, fully identified, convicted, and sentenced to the State Prison, and the Court caused to be presented to the young lady a testimonial, in the form of a beautiful pin, with a suitable inscription.

A short time after this, the same young lady was at home alone as before, and her parents not returning at dark, she took the precaution to fasten the outer door. She had not long done so when she heard a knock, but before exposing herself to danger, she took the precaution to provide the means of defence in the same two-barreled gun she had used on the former occasion. On carefully opening the door, a strange man presented himself and inquired—"Are you Miss M.?" She replied "Yes; what do you want?" He inquired again, "Are you the young lady who had a man sent to the State Prison?" She replied, "I am." Then said he, "I am his friend, and have come to put you out of the way," and, drawing a long dirk knife, was proceeding to enter the door, when she deliberately aimed the gun at him, and told him if he advanced a step he would be a dead man. She immediately noticed that he changed countenance and began to tremble; whereupon she, pursuing her advantage, ordered him to about face and march, which he very readily obeyed, and as he was retreating, she gave him a parting salute, by discharging one barrel of her trusty companion, which unfortunately only accelerated his retrograde motion.

The Scenery on Frazer River.

A correspondent of the Alta California has made trips up Frazer River as far as Fort Hope. Of the scenery he says:—

We were six hours running to the 49th parallel, into the clear waters of the Gorgian Gulf, a few miles below which we saw a few tents on Point Roberts, which many people are anxious should become a large town. The country bordering on the Gulf, and near the mouth of the river for many miles inland is flat, and is evidently subject to overflow. It grows little else than rushes, willows, and water shrubs. The hills rise blue in the distance clothed with trees—pines, cedars and their kindred. Many little bayous or sloughs make out from the river. As we advance, willows and cottonwoods appear of large growth. Near the edges of the stream, also, are numbers of large trees, torn out by the roots by the mountain torrents above, and drifted down, and left here in the sand, around which bars are formed, which some day will become fertile islands.

A few miles further and the growth becomes more dense and increases in size—ash, pine, spruce and maple are added to the varieties. I observe, also, from the ship what appear to be the low hard lachs of Maine. The flowing stalks of tall elastrias, and a red flowering spirea, are abundent. Immense quantities of drift wood are on the banks. We pass many very green islands—all having length. Now on the right, the banks are skirted with a tall growth of ash and maple, and beyond is an open prarie for an indefinite extent. This is followed by higher groud and heavier timber.

Passing the islands, the scenery is of continuous forest growth, the only variation being in the species of trees and shades of green foliage. The old ash trees are covered with lichens; so also the dead and dying hemlocks and pines. The scenery is always changing and always enchanting. Now the river spreads out, and forms a lake—an archipelago of green islands, the channels around which are calm and silvery, reflecting in their bright waters the trees upon the shore, and they are undisturbed by water fowl, Indian canoe or miner's paddle.

A Waldensian Church.

[Mr. Bryant's Letter to the N. Y. Evening Post.

One of the days which I passed in Turin was Sunday, and I looked in upon the Waldenses, who, under the new system of religious freedom in Sardinia, are allowed to worship openly in the cities. Their church in Turin is a handsome building, in the Romanesque style, with an ample semicircular recess for the communion at one end, and a pulpit built against one of the graceful pillars on the left side of the nave, as you enter.

In the morning an elderly minister gave a sensible discourse in French, in which he did not spare either Nicodemus, who came to Jesus by night, nor his timorous imitators at the present day. He insisted on a frank-fearless and sincere expression of opinion on religous subjects, with the admonition that it be uttered in all kindness and gentleness.

The afternoon service was for the Italian part of the congregation, and was conducted by a young man, who gave a common-place sermon, but who had the merit of a very distinct elocution, so that I lost not a word. The prayers were mostly read by the minister from a book, but otherwise there was nothing in the services to distinguish them from those of a Presbyterian church in New York, if I except the language—and really it seemed strange to hear religious services of this sort in the tongue of Catholic Italy. Neither in the morning nor the afternoon was the congregation large, but its manner was attentive and devout. It was composed of persons manifestly of different conditions in life, the opulent and the loboring; the women sitting apart from the men; and scattered among the men were several persons in the uniform of the Sardinian army, both officers and soldiers.

HOW THE PEOPLE TAKE THE "GREAT EVENT OF THE AGE."—Mr. Smith was highly delighted; declared it was wonderful; that it was the first instance within his recollection of a cable having been laid across the Atlantic.

Mr. Jones was "nearly crazy:" immediately ordered a dozen on the half shell, and said it was hard to beat.

Mr. Brown doubted whether it could really be true; stated his willingness to drink if invited.

Mrs. Thompson was wild with joy; said she never did—only think—goody gracious.

Messrs. Johnson, Hall, Miller and Green, who were attending a primary meeting at the "Pitcher and Three Glasses," resolved that it was a great thing, and was an additional cause for supporting the general Administration.—Evening Post.

A governess, advertising for a situation says "she is perfect mistress of her own tongue."

General Intelligence.

BANK CASHIER DECAMPED WITH $71,000, &c.—The McKean County Bank, Penn., we learn by the Potter County Journal, supended a few days ago. The cashier decamped with $71,000 of its funds, was arrested in New York, and committed in default of bail. The bills of the bank have been thrown out in New York. Mr. Kingsbury, its President, says the Journal, will secure the holders of its issue against loss, being able and willing to do so.

The Superior Court of Fairfield County, Conn., on complaint of the Bank Commissioners, has appointed Frederick S. Windham of Danbury, and William A. Judd of Bethel, Receivers of the Hatters' Bank of Bethel, and creditors of the bank are notified to present their claims at its banking-house in Bethel on or before the 20th of November next.

THE CABLE CELEBRATION AT SYRACUSE, N. Y.—A NEW FEATURE.—The Syracuse Journal, in describing Tuesday's jolification, says:

"A new feature was introduced—and such a feature! All of a sudden, and all at once fourteen locomotives sent up a shriek from their steam whistles which shook the firmest buildings to the center, deafened every ear, and penetrated, as we verily believe, west to lake Erie and east to tide water. There is no description in poetry or prose which can convey any just idea of the noise (that is the only word) that was thus created. It was positively awful. Such an unearthly sound—such a strange, mysterious and overwhelming sound—such a terrible, tremendous, and monstrous sound—never was heard before. It reminded us of the seven thunders of the Revelation; of a legion of Niagaras; of the horn of Gabriel, (we speak reverently) and the Day of Judgment! Men grew pale, women fainted, and children went into convulsions as they heard it."

TEA-PLANTS FOR THE UNITED STATES.—The North China Herald says: "Some weeks back a notice of Mr. Fortune's appointment as agent of the Government of the United States in China, was copied into our columns from a New York paper. Mr. Fortune arrived in Hong Kong about the end of last month, and after remaining in China for a year and procuring a supply of tea-plants and seed, will then, we understand, proceed to the United States, there to superintend the enterprise in which he is now engaged.

RATE OF TAXATION IN CINCINNATI.—The rate of taxation levied upon the assessment of real and personal property in Cincinnati for the current year, and which is to be paid under the law prescribing the semi-annual payment of taxes in December, 1858, and in June, 1859, is sixteen mills and six-tenths on each dollar of valuation. The rate last year was fifteen mills. Increase one and six-tenths mills.—Commercial.

STRIKE-THE-REE.—This famous Sioux chief met his death a short distance above Sioux City by a band of Indians. The two bands had a fight previously, in which Strike-the-Ree killed Mad Bull, the chief of the other party. The bands afterwards met, when Strike-the-Ree was killed. He was regarded as one of the shrewdest chiefs in Dacotah Territory.

THE SANDWICH ISLAND BABY PRINCE.—On the 12th of June the foreign children of Honolulu formed a procession and proceeded in a body to the residence of the king of the Sandwich Islands, and presented the infant prince with a beautiful little carriage worth $600. Master Everett, four years old, made the speech to the king:

"Sire: You would scarce expect one of my age to speak to a king; but I have come with the foreign children of Honolulu to see your little boy the Prince of Hawaii. We desire to present him this little carriage as a mark of our respect."

His Majesty replied nearly as follows:

"I thank you, Master Everett, and your little companions, for the present you have made to my infant boy. I appreciate it as another expression of sympathy so generally manifested in the foreign community in his behalf. You have but followed your parents' example, and I feel highly honored that both should have so kindly remembered my boy."

A baptismal robe has also been presented to the youngster, made by the same hands that prepared the lace coronation robe of her Majesty Queen Victoria and the baptismal robe of the Princess Royal of England.

FOSSIL TREES IN A COAL MINE.—The Wilkesbarre (Pa.) Record says: On Wednesday last we saw one of the greatest natural curiosities of the coal field, while attending some ladies on a visit to the Baltimore coal mines, near the borough. It will be remembered that ten or twelve acres of the mine which had been worked fell in a year or two ago, crushing the pillars left for support, and filling that portion with rock and slate from the roof. Through these masses of rock the superintendent of the mines, Mr. Frederick Landmesser, has explored and discovered the remains of a forest of trees which had been embedded in the slate rock above the large vein, fragments of which, by the fall, had been detached, and now lie in confusion—stumps, roots, limbs and impressions of bark, in the mine. Among the curiosities are two huge stumps, as perfect as if just drawn from the earth by a stump machine, the roots cut off where they had entered the ground, and the surface looked as if the bark had been taken off while the sap was running. In the rock above can be traced the ends of the logs from which the stumps have fallen, and in one place the body of the tree protrudes, the surface presenting the impression of bark.

THE TERMINUS OF THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—All who have visited Trinity Bay, New Foundland, with one consent allow it to be one of the most beautiful sheets of water they ever set eyes upon. Its color is very peculiar—an inexpressible mingling of the pure blue ocean with the deep evergreen woodlands, and the serene blue sky. Its extreme length is about eighty miles; its breadth about thirty miles, opening boldly into the Atlantic on the northern side of the island. At its southwestern shore its branches into the Bay of Bull's Arm, which is a quiet, saf and beautiful harbor, about two miles in breadth, and nine or ten in lenght, running in a direction northwest. The depth of water is sufficent for the largest vessels. The tide rises seven or eight feet, and the bay terminates in a beautiful sand beach. The shore is clothed with dark green fir-trees, which, mixed with the birch and mountain ash, present a pleasing contrast.

THE MAN WITH SHAWL NEED NOT APPLY.—We find in the Gospel (Maine) Banner the following advertisement:

"I am desirous of securing the services of two male teachers to teach school the coming winter. I take this method therefore of making known the fact. If this notice should meet the eye of any man (I mean physical as well as mental) who is willing to teach as well as keep school, I should be happy to see him.

"N. B.—No person who wears a shawl, spectacles, or walks with a cane, need apply, as sufficient instruction from that class has already been had. H. B. MAYNARD, Ag't.

"Kendall's Mills, July 10th, 1858."

THE VERY LATEST FROM THE ATLANTIC CABLE—IMPORTANT IF TRUE.—We stop the press to state that a stranger, with the least bit of a brogue, has just informed us that it has been thought best to have the first despatch over the new telegraph come by steamer.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

THE CAPABILITY OF THE SUBMARINE TELEGRAPH.—Prof. Morse's estimate of the power of the Atlantic Telegraph was that "it would be easy to telegraph from Ireland to Newfoundland at the speed of at least eight or ten words per minute. Take it at ten words in the minute, and allowing ten words for name and address, we can safely calculate upon the transmission of a twenty words message in three minutes, or fourteen thousand four hundred words per day." If this estimate is realized, the cable will offer ample facilities for all present demands upon it.

"Pictures are the realities—men are but the shadows!" exclaimed Wilkie, who every day for seventy years had looked upon Titian's Last Supper." During that seventy years, all whom he had known in youth had passed away, while the figures upon the canvass were as fresh and young—as at first.

SOLDIERS EXERCISING IN THE WATER.—The Paris papers say that several regiments of the Guard were exercised on Saturday morning, the 17th ult., in the Champ de Mars, under the command of General Melinet. During the manœuvres 200 of the 2d regiment of Grenediers were ordered to swim across the Seine, just below the Point d'Lena, and to discharge their muskets as they did so, at an enemy supposed to be on the opposite bank. This movement was well executed and without any accident.

The Courier Etats Unis, of July 29, states in a correspondence receaved from Epernay, in France, that a railroad train caught fire and an American lady and her child, Mrs. Villier, were consumed by the flames. Mr. Villier, who traveled in the same car, saved his life dy jumping out of a window, but by means of his fail on the road broke his shoulder. After his recovery he claimed damages to the amount of 50,000f., which the court allowed him.

This is Mr. Paul Villier, who formerly resided in Portland.

"Sir," said a burly fellow, of no enviable character, "I have the largest neck of any man in the city." "Very likely," said his neighbor. "and I saw yesterday the largest rope in the city—put that and that together.

The Rev. H. W. Beecher, having stated that religious doctrine was only the "skin of truth set up and stuffed," one of his brethren quotes for his edification, the words of St. Paul on this wise: "Till I come, give attendence to reading, and to the skin of truth set up and stuffed."

A little urchin in Sunday School at Buffalo was asked—What did our Saviour say when he knew that Judas had betrayed him?" The urchen scrached his head a few moments andthen gravely answered—"Eternal Vigilance is the price of liberty."

An Irishman called in haste upon Dr. Abernethy, exclaiming: 'Be dad, sir, me boy Tim has swallowed a mouse.' 'Then be dad,' said the doctor, 'tell your boy Tim to swollow a cat.

"My son, would you suppose that the lord's Prayer could be engraved in a space no larger than the area of a half-dime?"

"Well yes father, if a half dime is as large in every body's eyes as it is in yours, I think there would be no difficulty in putting it on four times."

EYE AND EAR.
DR. UNDERWOOD,

FORMERLY OF THE EYE AND EAR Infirmary of Louisville, Ky., and more recently Physician and Surgeon to the Eye and Ear Infirmary, Columbus, Ohio, and author of a "New System of Treating Diseases of the Eye and Ear without the use of the Knife," would announce that he has permanently established an Infirmary in the city of Chicago, Illinois, at SEVENTY-THREE South Clark street, where he will remain in order to afford to those afflicted with diseases of the Eye and Ear, an opportunity of being treated by a system which is entirely new, perfectly safe, and has never been known to fail in effecting permanent cures, especially in all cases of Opthalmia (or inflammation of the eye) whether acute or chronic, whether catarrhal, purulent, scrofulous, or rheumatic. It will also remove all Opacities of the Cornea, whether of a nebulous or albuginous character, or any other external scum, film, or extraneous substance, from the sight of the Eye. The new mode of treatment has never failed of curing Piergyium, Staphyloma and Amaurosis, and has even succeeded in removing Cataract from the Eye, whether Capsular or Lenticular, in a great majority of cases, without the use of the knife or needle.

He has been equally successful in his treatment of Diseases of the Ear, with his new system. For skill and success in his profession, the Doctor directs those interested to the following well known citizens of Columbus, Ohio: Capt. E. M. Lilley, Judge Rankin, Capt. Wm. Willis, Rev. Dr. Hulburd, of the Presbyterian Church; and the following members of the Ohio Legislature: Hon. Dr. Flower of Perry county, Hon. Patrick Thompson of Coshocton county, Hon. Mr. Johnson of Hocking, Hon. J. A. Bell of Medina county; all of whom are personally acquainted with the Doctor's success.

No charge made for an examination and opinion. Patients at a distance, can have medicines and directions sent to them by giving a minute description of their cases. mh26'58-ly

Commercial and Money Matters.

TUESDAY EVENING, Aug. 24.

MONEY, EXCHANGE, ETC.—Exchange seems to be on a sliding scale downwards. Bankers to-day agreed to put exchange on New York at ¾ of one per cent. premium on to-morrow (Wednesday) morning. The relative scarcity of currency and the large shipments of produce must be regarded as the cause of the decline.

Opinions in regard to the rejected Wisconsin currency continue divided. Many of the bankers are now satisfied that reasonable notice should have been given to the owners of these banks to make arrangements for redemption, while others adhere rigidly to the position they have taken. Should currency become still more scarce, it will ere long modify the opinions of the latter class, though a determination to insist on redemptions seems alike common to our own and the majority of the legitimate Wisconsin bankers. There can scarcely be a doubt that the safety both of bankers and the business public requires a rigid enforcement of this policy.

A system of swindling the public was referred to by a correspondent in our issue of yesterday morning, which deserves more extended notice. It consists in buying up the genuine notes of some exploded "institution" like the Bank of Chicago at a very small figure, say three or five cents on the dollar, indorsing them by some broker or sharper, and putting them afloat in some territory where there are no local bank issues. The man who issues them promises his customers to redeem them in other currency, and perhaps he does so when presented—certainly as long as it is convenient and profitable. But soon these bills stray away from the place where they are issued by the indorser. They ere long find their way into the hands of some honest and careless, but it may be intelligent man, who does not notice the indorsement, and if he did, does not know who the indorser is, where he is, or anything of his responsibility. It is sufficient for him that he is told the bank is broken, and he gives it to his children to play with, or puts it into some sly corner of his wallet, where it remains for years without molestation. In this and other ways not a tithe of the money issued ever returns to plague the man who utters it, and somebody is swindled. We have reason to believe that a very profitable business is done in this kind of villainy in some portions of the West. It is due to the entire public that men who attempt to practice this new species of "confidence game" should be at once exposed by the people among whom they attempt to "operate."

Bank discounts remain at former figures, viz: ten per cent. for strictly business paper. Calls for money for any other purpose find bankers "deaf as a post."

Gold is inactive and retails in small lots at 1@1¼@1½.

There is very little good paper in the street, and rates among the street brokers range from 1¼ per month to nominal and even fabulous figures.

COMMERCIAL.—The great scarcity of currency, and the unusually large receipts of grain, had a very depressing effect on Breadstuffs to-day—especially on Wheat and Corn. Parties desirous of purchasing could not obtain advances, and large amounts of grain kept pressing on the market without buyers.

The Wheat market declined 5@9c on Spring, and 5@10c on Winter. Only about 48,000 bu changed hands. Fresh receipts of No. 2 Spring opened at 95@96c, but declined to 87@88c in store. Old receipts of No. 2 Spring were sold early at 87@88 in store, with no transactions in the afternoon. Rejected Spring was in fair request at 75@78c in store, No. 1 White Winter sold at $1.25 in store; No 1 Red, $1.15; and No 2 Red at $1 05. In the evening the market closed heavy and dull.

Corn was very inactive and suffered a decline of 3@5c. Only about 22,000 bushels changed hands, at 69c afloat for Canal; 64@66 in store, for No. 1; and 60c for No. 2 in store.

Oats were in fair demand at 49@50c in store. A canal boat load was sold to go to St. Louis at 51c f. o. b.

The Flour market continues firm with a good demand for Spring Extras at $5.

The Provision market is very quiet. Hides steady. Wool quiet.

Lake freights are firm. Vessels take Corn to Buffalo at 3c, and a propeller, Wheat to Buffalo at 4½c.

The Cincinnati Gazette, [illegible] no [illegible] the name Republican, [illegible] of yesterday says:—

The advices from New York to the Chamber of Commerce, reporting an advance in Flour and Grain in that market, caused considerable excitement among our dealers, and Flour went up 20@25c per bbl. Wheat was 2@3c per bushel higher. There were in fact few sellers towards the close of business, holders anticipating still better prices. The improvement in New York, it is stated, was caused by a reported break in the Erie Canal. The improvement here, was as usual more extensive than that established in New York. The figures for the two markets now compare as follows:

	Cincinnati.	New York.
Superfine Flour	$4 90@5 00	$5 65@6 15
Wheat, white western	1.11@1 12	1.15@1.35
Corn	55@56c.	74@76c.
Oats	60@51c.	46@51c.

Our currency, as compared with New York, is above a shipping point, but holders nevertheless are very firm and there is an export demand for Wheat, for Buffalo, Cleveland, Rochester, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, fully equal to the offerings. Prime red Wheat, to-day, commanded $1.08. At the prices now current for Flour and Wheat, the farmers of Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Southern Illinois will realize more money than if there had been a full crop throughout the country. In the districts mentioned, there is more wheat, and of better quality, than at this date last year, while prices are fully fifty per cent. above the average of last season. The receipts of a few articles at this port, for the week ending this evening and for the corresponding week last year were:

	This Year.	Last Y'r.
Flour, bbls	16,347	10,200
Whisky, bbls	4,8 5	4 427
Corn, bu	58 130	9,467
Wheat, bu	59 771	59,187
Oats, bu	12,316	7,705
Barley, bu	2,430	766

Should current prices for grain be sustained, money will soon become abundant in the interior of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky; thus placing farmers in a condition to discharge their liabilities to the merchants. Hogs, too, promise to rule high. There are buyers, now, at $5 50 for future delivery, with few sellers below $6. Altogether the prospects for this section are quite favorable. In the Northwest, however, matters present a discouraging appearance.

Provisions were quite dull again to-day, and we heard of no sales. Whisky declined ½c. Groceries are steady.

THE CROPS IN GREAT BRITAIN.

[From the Mark Lane Express, Aug. 2.]

The rain of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, having been very general, has checked the progress of harvest; but as it was followed by cold drying winds, it has been rather beneficial than otherwise, being rapidly absorbed by the soil. The new wheat brought to market has almost entirely consisted of Talavera quality, and the quantity exhibited has been too small to form a fair estimate of the probable yield. The bulk of the crop has yet to be gathered, and the weather must still decide the character of the markets; but the tendency this week has been, on the whole, rather downwards. Very conflicting accounts still obtain; but beyond a fair average can hardly be expected, either here or in America; while Europe generally seems below this expectation. It is well that the overplus of the last crop will be available to fill up any void. Potatoes have kept improving, though in some localities there are complaints that the drought has made the tubers smaller than usual. Beans and peas seem bad everywhere, barley and oats being short. The rain has fallen too late to get many second cuts of grass, but it will be very serviceable for feeding off. Foreign markets, like our own, have experienced some fluctuations, leaving but a small difference from last reports. Still, as many are above our own rates, holders here seem little disposed to accept lower prices, especially as, even with fine weather, there is a prospect that all sooner or later will be wanted, and there is no abundance of Indian corn to fall back upon as a substitute in case of need.

KENOSHA WATER CURE.

THIS INSTITUTION IS FOUNDED UPON the principle of using "Nature's Remedies" in the cure of disease, and so instructing patients in their use that they may not only regain but maintain health.

The location of the CURE is eminently adapted for the purpose, being situated in one of the most pleasant cities of the West, which for health, pure air and water, cannot be surpassed.

Our Rooms and Bathing conveniences are well arranged for the comfort of Patients, and no pains will be spared to make their stay agreeable.

A Gymnasium and Bowling Alley are in connection with the Institution.

We would call the attention of the afflicted to a new remedy, the

Electro Chemical Baths,

Which we have introduced into this CURE. By the use of these baths, all extraneous minerals (as mercury, lead, &c.,) are extracted from the system, and some of the most distressing maladies that humanity is subject to are entirely cured, such as Scrofula, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Ulcers, Neuralgia, and Nervous diseases generally. Persons who have worked in Paints, or taken mercury or mineral medicine of any kind, will do well to test these Baths.

The terms of this Institution are $6 to $9 per week—payable weekly.

Invalids will bring six crash towels, two cotton or linen sheets, a flannel blanket and two comfortables.

Those desiring home treatment will inclose $3 to HOP YEAST.

ATTENTION HOUSEKEEPERS.—Knowing the difficulty of getting Good Yeast in this city and county, the undersigned has commenced the manufacture of Hop Yeast in Chicago. It is put up in the form of a dry cake and is known as the "New England Dry Hop Yeast Cake." They may be had of any respectable Grocer in this city, and towns in this and adjoining states. By using these cakes and keeping them on hand, you can in two minutes time have a cup of fresh yeast and at an expense of one penny.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING.—Break a cake into a cup of blood warm water—it will dissolve in two minutes—then make you sponge and set it to rise over night. Knead your dough well and keep it warm until ready for the oven and you will have better bread than with any other yeast. One cake is sufficient for three quarts of flour. Retail price, 1 shilling for a package of 12 cakes, or $1.25 for a gross box.

Inquire of your grocer for the New England Dry Hop Yeast Cake, and take nothing else if you would have good raised bread. If he has not got it ask him to get it for you. Manufactory on State street, one door north of Shawnee Mills, Chicago, Ill. P. O. address Box 3126. Grocers orders promptly filled whether in city or country. [illegible]

Of which the Springfield (Mass.) "Republican" truly says: "Few of the late inventions of the day can claim a success like this already celebrated article of household economy. It is constructed in a neat, simple, though scientific manner, and its advantages are that it makes deliciously fragrant coffee, even if used by unskillful hands, and retains all the aroma of the berry, that usually escapes in steam when cooked in the old-fashioned way. The draught which it makes is nectar compared with that of old-time coffee pots."
